Shepherd Canyon Battle Continues

'Tabled, Continued' is Fate Of Pinball, Cardroom Pleas

Proposed ordinances to regulate card rooms and to forbid single and multiple play pinball machines in Contra Costa County got no action from the Board of Supervisors Tuesday, although they had both matters before them in previous meetings.

Vigorously pushed by Sheriff Harry Brown, the card room ordinance, which would control hours and licensing, was "continued indefinitely," and the pinball ban was "tabled."

THIS CAME a week after Brown told the Supervisors that the card room ordinance would make it possible for his officers to control such activities, and that the pinball ban would be "the only effective police measure."

At that time, Chairman H. L. Cummings ordered District Attorney to prepare a card room ordinance, and promised that the pinball outlawing would be given "further consideration."

The motion to "continue" the card room proposals was by Supervisor W. G. Buchanan, seconded by Supervisor Ray Taylor of the Second District, including Walnut Creek, Pleasant Hill and Alamo.

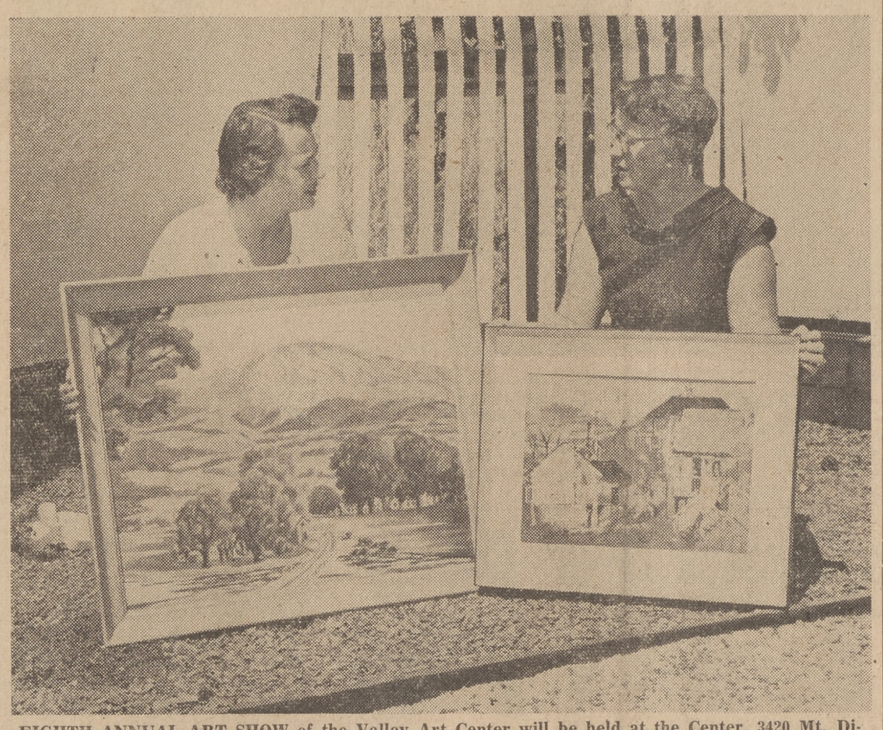

The motion to table the pinball proposals was by Supervisor Ivan Goyak, seconded again by Taylor.

UNDERSHERIFF John Jagard appeared at the meeting Tuesday in support of the measures.

Opposing the pinball ban was Geroud Gill, a Clayton area resort owner.

Against cardroom regulation was Tsarn Calsee, Richmond attorney, who warned the Supervisors that he could bring in petitions signed by "thousands" of people who want hours and licensing of the cardrooms left uncontrolled.

The board consensus was that there were few complaints about present conditions, so no immediate action is necessary, it was reported.

Next Hearing on Lafayette Master Plan September 25

Next public hearing session on the proposed Lafayette master plan will be conducted by the County Planning Commission September 25, 8 p.m., in the meeting room of the County Administration Building, Pine and Escobar Streets, Martinez.

This was announced yesterday by Principal County Planner H. Russell Griffith, following a three-hour conference in Martinez Wednesday night by the county planning staff with representatives of the Lafayette Improvement Association and the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce.

"The commission had asked the planning staff to set a hearing date," Griffith said.

"THE SEPTEMBER 25 hearing will be the second, or continued, session of the second public hearing, the first session of which was held last January," he explained.

"We hope that this will be the final hearing session before the commission."

Conferring Wednesday night in the drafting room of the Administration Building with Griffith and Associate County Planner Ed Radosevich, in charge of the advanced planning section, were some 25 persons.

In addition to most of the directors of the Lafayette Improvement Association, headed by President George Walker, and to Fred Wagner of the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce, the conferees included C. L. Sawyer, president of the Happy Valley Improvement Association. Wagner was accompanied by Vernon Patterson.

IN PREPARATION for the September 25 hearing, the Lafayette Improvement Association board will meet at Lafayette Town Hall at 8 p.m. next Wednesday, according to Walker.

On September 19, 8 p.m., also at Town Hall, the Lafayette Improvement Association will hold a general membership meeting for the purpose of discussing the Lafayette master plan. Walker said that the county planning staff is being asked to send a representative to this meeting, to explain population-density considerations.

MAIN ASPECTS of the Lafayette general plan that were discussed last Wednesday night were Happy Valley, the proposed multiple-family area along Moraga Road near Town Hall and the proposed business zone in the Bickerstaff area.

According to Griffith and William Zion, chairman of the Lafayette Improvement Association's planning committee, there was no serious objection to some sort of business zone in the Bickerstaff area, provided a suitable multiple-family buffer strip be placed at the south of the section, between the business zone and the single-family residential zone.

MAIN CONTROVERSIES remaining appeared to be over Happy Valley and the Moraga Road area near Town Hall.

Regarding Happy Valley, Sawyer and W. F. Funk of Happy Valley Road, a director of the Lafayette Improvement Association, argued for the retaining of one-acre minimum lot-sizes for the portion of Happy Valley now so zoned.

Griffith and Radosevich said the county planning staff favors a "low density" classification for Happy Valley (0 to 3 families per net acre). Actual zoning would depend on a zoning hearing, they said.

OPPOSITION to multiple-family classification for the Moraga Road section in the vicinity of Town Hall was expressed by Lafayette Improvement Association spokesmen, including Zion, iVce-President Doug Buffington and Secretary Charles Baake.

The chamber view was in favor of multiple family classification for that section.

Griffith and Radosevich pointed out that the county planning staff believes is desirable to have multiple-family status there.

Griffith added that decision on these various matters would be by the commission, even though the technical staff would make recommendations.

FOR THE EASTERN portion of Lafayette along the south side of Mt. Diablo Boulevard the planning staff favored an area for service-type establishments rather than one for ordinary retail business.

Lagiss Hearing Will Be Held

Public hearing on the application of Anthony G. Lagiss for Neighborhood Business rezoning of a 5-acre parcel on the west side of Pleasant Hill Road, across from Acalanes High School, is scheduled for October 9, 2:45 p.m., before the County Board of Supervisors, in Martinez.

The hearing date and time were set by the supervisors Tuesday, after receiving the favorable recommendation of the County Planning Commission.

The land is now zoned Transition Residential-Agricultural.

Controversy over Lagiss property in the vicinity of Pleasant Hill Road near Mt. Diablo Boulevard has flared intermittently during the past several years.

Mrs. Bainbridge Back from Trip, Needs More Wool

Back home from her recent four-week vacation trip to Camp Curry at Yosemite National Park, Mrs. Margaret Bainbridge of 919 Bell Street, Lafayette, wants more wool so that she can continue making afghans for amputees at the Oak Knoll and Veterans Administration Hospitals.

She asks that anyone having wool to give, leave it for her at the Plaza Cleaners, 3537 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette.

While at Camp Curry, Mrs. Bainbridge went on nature walks with the ranger every other day. Vernal Falls, Fin Flats, Crain Flats and El Capitan were some of the places visited on these hikes.

"The ranger didn't want to take me to El Capitan — he said I was too old at 76," Mrs. Bainbridge says. "I replied, 'Try and stop me.' And I went along."

125 Artists Entered in Show; Party Tonight

The eighth annual Art Show by the Valley Art Center, 3420 Mt. Diablo Boulevard, Lafayette will have on exhibit the works of some 125 artists of the county this week end.

There will be paintings, sculpture and photography.

A preview Garden Party will be held tonight 7 to 12 p.m. The awards will be made at 9 p.m. that night.

There are $215 in cash and $25 in merchandise orders. Members and exhibitors will be admitted without charge.

Admission Fee for non-members will be used to build up the Fund for a Permanent Art Center. The show will be tomorrow and Sunday from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

There are many well-known artists in Contra Costa County entered. They include Mary Rasmussen, Betty Pleshe, Hiram Meulendyke, Connie Helm, Lyle Lund, Leon and Edith Dinkin, Pat St. John Moran, Jonathan Batchelor, Doris Whipple, Hazel Elling, Katy Madsen, Michael Czaja, Lenore Vogt.

The photography exhibit under the chairmanship of S. G. Culver of Orinda will be featured as the gallery show for September in the Artist Market at the Center. Fridays from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m.

The winning artists will be named by a jury of three men, Paul Mills, director of the Oakland Art Musuem, Karl Kasten, staff member of the University of California and Eugen Neuhaus, professor Emeritus of the University of California.

Carefree Days End for 2327 Pupils in Orinda

Some 2327 Orinda pupils tucked away bathing suits, donned shoes and combed their hair Wednesday morning.

Then, by bus and by foot, they left their homes and, full of anticipation, trecked to their respective schools, three months of carefree life behind them.

FOR WEDNESDAY marked the opening of classes in the five Orinda School District institutions, and the entire community buzzed with activity.

A smooth beginning of the fall term was reported by all schools, despite the approximately 10 per cent increase in enrollment. There were some 2240 students in the local schools last June, but 2500 are expected to fill the classrooms when enrollment is complete, according to District Superintendent Joseph L. Sheaff.

DRAWING THE largest contingent of students was the Del Rey School, with 568. Next was the Sleepy Hollow School with 492, Glorietta with 435, Pine Grove, 434, and Orinda, 398.

On hand to instruct the record number of youngsters at the five grammar schools will be 72 teachers — also a record number, nine more than last year. Of the 72 teachers, 10 are replacements for teachers who have left the district employ since June.

PUPILS WILL not only find new classmates and new instructors, but also many changes in both the scenery and their studies.

During the summer work had been done on several schools to make them fresh and ready for the fresh term. Trustees and instructors alike had been at work during the summer formulating new coures and programs.

A growing student population has begun the first days of the new semester and has some nine months of school life lying ahead before another summer vacation.

Polio Takes Life Of Daughter of Larry Blakesley

A form of polio last Tuesday took the life of Mrs. Elizabeth Betts Rourke, 29, a mother of five children and daughter of Larry Blakesley, president of the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce.

Mrs. Rourke, a resident of Alameda, was stricken with the disease last week and was taken to the Highland Hospital, where she succumbed.

Born in San Francisco, Mrs. Rourke attended school in Alameda and then San Francisco City College.

She is survived by her husband, Daniel J. Rourke, and children Daniel, 8, Katherine, 6, Sharron, 5, Diane, 3, and Peggy Ann, 10 months.

Aside from Mr. and Mrs. Blakesley, other survivors are her brother, Robert Boone Lagle of Palo Alto and paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Francis Lagle of San Jose.

The funeral will be held today at the Smiley Gallagher Mortuary in Alameda.

Mothers Meet

The Orinda Mothers Club met Thursday noon at the home of Mrs. C. Erickson of 31 Donna Maria Way, Orinda. Activities for the coming year were discussed.

Rural Postal Delivery to Start in Moraga Tomorrow

Some 200 families in the Moraga Valley area will find, starting tomorrow, that they no longer have to trudge to the Moraga Post Office to collect their mail.

POSTMASTER Eleanor W. Dickenson announces that starting tomorrow rural postal delivery will be established in Moraga.

With Mrs. John Thune acting as temporary substitute carrier, mail wil be delivered in the area and the Rheem Valley Estates area once daily, excluding Sundays and holidays.

The newly established delivery area, according to Mrs. Dickenson, will cover generally the same territory as that of the Moraga school and fire districts.

CHANGE IN the system, of course, will mean elimination of post office boxes for the residents of the served area, but, stated the postmaster, boxes will still be maintained for those living in outlying areas.

Mrs. Dickenson said that "This is the service which the Moraga Valley has anticipated with a great deal of pride and satisfaction."

BEARING OUT her contention that the move is desirable and welcomed by the community is Captain Harold R. Parker, president of the Moraga Valley Community Club.

"The community is grateful to the Post Office Department and to representative John F. Baldwin, who ably assisted in obtaining the establishment of the service," he stated.

The Moraga Valley Community Club, the Moraga Mother's Club, the Volunteer Firemen's Association and other civic groups have been working for rural delivery for the past year, Mrs. Dickenson claimed.

School Bond Vote Seen for Orinda In Near Future

A report by the Odell Associates of Standford University will decide the Orinda School District Board of Trustees whether to hold a major bond election in the near future.

In response to a request from Joseph L. Sheaff, superintendent of schools, the associates will turn in a detailed report of the projected expectation of increases in assessed valuation over the next five years.

Sheaff, instructed to request the report at a board meeting Tuesday night, said the Odell Associates would submit their paper at a trustee meeting October 1.

IF THE REPORT, which will be a detailed supplement of the survey of the Orinda school situation earlier this year, indicates that it is necessary, the district will hold a bond election " as soon as possible," stated Sheaff.

The report will also be used as a guide, he said, as to how much to ask for in the election. The amount would be decided from the district's ability to buy bonds and the community's desire to borrow from the state.

Also included in the report will be a study of the present $1.75 per $100 assessed valuation and its potential relationship to next year's budget and future budgets for the next five years.

THE BOARD WILL also decide at the October meeting whether to request a vote on whether the district should operate at the present tax level or switch to a higher limit.

The present $1.75 limit expires next year.

The previous Odell report had indicated that the district would need an additional $1.3 million by 1960.

IN OTHER BUSINESS at Tuesday's meeting two new teachers were elected into the district. They were Gerald Lawrence, who will teach eighth grade at the Pine Grove School, and Mrs. Ruth English, who will instruct the fourth and fifth grades at the Orinda School.

Mrs. English is replacing Miss Nancy Smith, who was granted a year's leave of absence recently when she was seriously injured in an automobile accident.

SHEAFF WAS authorized to employ a cook and open up the cafeteria at the Pine Grove School. The board also adopted wage scales for cooks, managers and cafeteria workers.

PH Interchange Traffic Detoured

Westbound traffic was routed Tuesday over the newly completed portion of the Pleasant Hill Road Interchange project, by the State Division of Highways.

The change in the traffic flow on the existing Mt. Diablo Boulevard freeway, according to S. F. Lucchese, resident engineer.

The detoured traffic will cross over the new overpass bridge to a point 400 feet west of the bridge and then flow back onto old Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

Fire Board Head Denies 'Obsolete' Equipment Charge

Exception to the opinion that the Lafayette Fire Department is now using "obsolete" equipment was taken this week by C. R. Turner, president of the Board of Fire Commissioners of the fire district.

In answer to the allegation last week by Commissioner G. E. Parkhill that faulty equipment was putting the district in peril of a higher fire insurance rate, Turner, in a letter to The Sun, charged that "this is incorrect."

"THE PRESENT equipment in the department is continually being chacked and maintained in first class conditions and meets all standards," the board president stated.

Parkhill, writing to The Sun, had claimed that "the situation is more serious than most people believe.

"The truth is," he continued, "that our present equipment is for the most part obsolete, with some of it dating back to 1937."

He was taking exception to the claim of Fire Board Secretary Mel Nielsen that the Board of Fire Underwriter classification of this district would be switched from Class 4 to Class 3, as previously reported in The Sun.

Parkhill went on to state that increased insurance rates may result unless steps are taken to improve the resent equipment.

FURTHER disagreement came from Turner on this statement.

"Due to the efficient management of the Lafayette Fire District," he said, "during the past year it was not necessary to raise the tax rate for fire protection."

He added that a study is being made by the commissioners as a preliminary to the acquisition of a "certain amount of equipment for the district as it expands, so that we will be fully protected."

SUGGESTED BY Parkhill as necessary improvements were the following:

1. Purchase two new 1000 to 1500 gallon pumpers with turret nozzles.

2. Take the present tanks and pumps off the two best pieces of present equipment and replace them with larger tanks and pumps.

3. Purchase one new four-wheel drive piece of equipment capable of leaving the road and going in on grass fires.

WITH THE BOARD of Fire Commissioners meeting the third Tuesday of each month at 8 p.m. at the main fire station on Moraga Road, Turner invited any local resident with questions concerning the district to attend.

He also issued an invitation to inspect the present fire equipment to any group or organization so desiring.

Nelsons Settled In Holland Home

The Charles Nelson family of Orinda is now settled in a large and comfortable home in Holland, following about two months of hotel living while they waited for the house to be available.

Their new home is in a village on a canal and has a lovely garden. Mr. and Mrs. Nelson and daughter Joy recently toured across Germany to Austria for the Mozart Festival while sons Dave and Kip enjoyed a two-week camping trip by boat down the Rhine River.

The Nelson children will attend school in Aerdenhout and of course will study Dutch.

Nelson is an engineer with Shell Chemical Corporation and will be stationed in Holland for the next year.

Orinda Drive For Library To Resume

Resumption next week of the house-to-house driv to call for Orinda Library Building Fund contributions from the more than 500 Orinda homes missed in the June solicitations was announced today by Mrs. Donald Krotz, solicitations chairman.

SERVING UNDER Mrs. Krotz as area supervisors will be Mrs. Con Smith, Mrs. John Madison and Mrs. Edmnd Wilford in the campaign toward the $125,000 goal.

Perc S. Brown, general chairman, stated that the activity is well organized and hoped the local residents would respond generously in contributing to the creation of this "badly needed and worthwhile community asset."

He added that he had asked the Auditing Committee of the fund to consider making an interim checkup of the fund's progress as of the end of September. This would, he said, give Orindans a close idea as to the status of the fund early in October.

TO DATE, some $65,000 in cash and pledges have been contributed to the campaign. Cash on hand currently totals slightly less than $30,000, of which $25,000 is now drawing interest.

Brown also indicated that some of the individuals and firms in Orinda had not as yet contributed to the fund, and arrangements were being made for a follow-up visit.

"We hope that a number of the many organizations in Orinda will give serious consideration to raising sizeable contributions by means of group activities this fall," Brown stated.

HE CITED the $1000 contribution from the Orinda Junior Women's Club as an impressive example.

With "another $60,000 at least" to be raised for the new Orinda library, the chairman mentioned that the campaign was attracting wide interest in other communities.

Burton PTA Prepares Plans

On Wednesday the doors of Burton School were opened and the children of the Burton School area were welcomed by Mrs. Helen Cory, principal, and the faculty. The last week in August was a busy one for the executive officers of Burton's PTA and Mrs. Cory.

On Tuesday of last week the members of the executive board and the Burton teachers met for a "get acquainted" luncheon in the school library. The next day a meeting was held at the home of LaVerne and Lee Kerns, presidents of the PTA with Mrs. Cory and some of the officers of last year for the purpose of doing some preliminary work on the budget for the new year.

On Thursday Mr. Kerns met with the Burton School teachers and outlined the PTA objectives and goals.

On Friday morning parents of kindergarten children arrived at Burton School for a tour of the classrooms and to become acquainted with the teachers and school routines. Refreshments were served and a brief discussion was held concerning the plans being formulated by the PTA, fololwed by a question-and-answer period.

A meeting was scheduled for last night by the executive board with Mrs. Cory for the purpose of outlining an overall PTA program for the year.

It's Back-to-Books for 3500 Pupils in Lafayette

Some laughing in anticipation, some hesitant and some in quiet resignation, 3500 students in Lafayette exchanged careless summer togs for neat dresses and starched shirts Wednesday as schools opened their doors.

But when the first classes throughout the district opened sessions that morning, the adjustment from a carefree summer to schoolroom study seemed imminent.

THE OPENING of schools for the 1956-'57 year went off without a serious hitch, according to District Superintendent W. B. Ellis.

"It seemed that schools started more smoothly this year than ever before," he said, with a look of satisfaction.

Students flocking to school via bus, auto and foot found several changes and many new faces in their institutions.

They found, first of all, that they had more classmates than ever before. Enrollment, expected to reach 3530, is about 235 greater than last year.

LARGEST SCHOOL, enrollmentwise, this year is the Lafayette School, with 710 pupils. Following in order are the Stanley School, 640; Burton School, 615; Springhill School, 540; Montecito, 520; and Vallecito, 485.

Several new faces are behind the teachers' desks, too, the youngsters discovered. A total of 37 new teachers, divided among the various schools, are in the district.

Some of these teachers are replacements of teachers who have left the district's employ, while others are additions to the instruction staff.

WITH THE GROWING district came improvements of facilities. Students found that their schools were clean, fresh and pretty, and that many efforts had been made to make their next semester a more pleasant one.

Changes came also from the scholastic end, and new courses, curriculums and programs have been instituted.

Pupils have settled in their classes, and now face nine more months of study and recreation before another summer vacation rolls around.

Supervisors Tell Planners To Study Effects on 'Values'

By JULIUS ROSENTHAL

With the scheduled October 3 public hearing before the California Highway Commission at Miramonte High School less than a month away, arguments over routing of the western leg of the future Shepherd Canyon Freeway continued this week.

Reemphasizing their opposition to the state-favored route (No. 4) — an approximate straight-line course traversing the vicinity of Miramonte School and Moraga townsite — were six neighborhood improvement associations in the Southern Orinda area.

In their stand these groups and Utah Construction Company disputed the contention of State Division of Highways engineers and the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation that the state-favored route would be the best.

Filed at the county clerk's office Tuesday were data in support of their plea that the Board of Supervisors urge the California Highway Commission to study the effects of the various proposed freeway routes on "community values."

AS PREVIOUSLY promised by the supervisors to Attorney Robert Thaman, representing the neighborhood groups, the material was referred to the Planning Commission for study.

The material was filed by Herman Ruth, planning consultant for the six neighborhood associations represented by Thaman; Attorney Dana Murdock, representing Utah Construction Company, and William Zion, also retained by Utah Construction Company.

Zion later explained that Ruth's material dealt with "planning values and planning considerations."

The data compiled by Murdock included estimates on the effect of various routes on property values, by three appraisers employed by Utah — Lawrence Wallace, Ben Hamlin and Zura Bells.

Zion's material concerned the effect the various proposed routes would have on the local tax base. He claimed that over a 20-year period, the state-favored route would produce $5,700,000 less in local tax revenue than would one of the three alternate routes.

Zion said yesterday that a summary of the arguments for a "community values" study will be presented to the County Planning Commission next Tuesday night.

ENDORSEMENT of the state-favored route was voted recently by the Diablo Highway Improvement Federation board because the directors felt that "engineering-wise, that route is the best," according to Federation Chairman Elliot J. Hartman.

Thaman points out that a study of effects of freeway routes on "community values" is provided for by a new state law that became effective July 5.

The six neighborhood associations, calling themselves the Orinda-Moraga Valley Homeowners, are the Lincoln Estates, Moraga del Rey, Ranchitos de Moraga, Lost Valley, Inland Valley and Moraga Woodlands associations.

JayCees Hear International Problems Aired

International relations was one of the major topics at the August 27 meeting of the Lafayette-Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce as JayCee members listened to guest speaker Dr. Walter Froewis, German vice-consul.

Dr. Froewis' remarks were followed an enthusiastic question and answer period.

At the same meeting, Al Brennan, representing the National Safety Council, issued a plea for active JayCee support of the Contra Costa Safety Council. Action on Brennan's request is currently under consideration by the JayCee board of directors.

President Hans Beetz reports that JayCee committees are presently engaged in work on the Walnut Creek Festival, a Halloween social October 27, a membership breakfast October 20 and La Frantics of 1956.

Orinda Store Robbed of $250

Burglars entered the office of the manager of the Sprouse-Reitz Company store in Orinda the night of August 30 and made off with a day's receipts, totalling $200 cash and $50 worth of small checks.

According to sheriff's deputies, the money was taken from an unlocked drawer in the office of Manager Edmond Amatrone of Concord. Amatrone told deputies that he had put the money in the drawer as usual that night. The next morning it was gone.

With investigation on the case still being conducted, Inspector Norman Wilson said there were no signs of a forced entry into the building.

HERE IS A typical yesteryear scene in the traditional Walnut Festival parade. This year, the Festival will run September 20 to 23, drawing thousands of men, women and children from the Bay Area. These vintage cars and others like them make for variety in the parade, which is a highlight among many scheduled events.

BOB CROSBY, famous screen, television and radio personality, will entertain the people at the Walnut Festival, the nights of September 21 and 22. He will bring along a full complement of singers and entertainers, including the "Modernaires."

Terrorist Hits 3 Area Homes In Gun Spree

One Pleasant Hill family and two other Contra Costa homes were terrorized by an unidentified gun wielding hoodlum early last Friday morning.

Duane Diller of 1912 Leslie Drive was confronted by a youth with a revolver. The youth backed down the hall while pointing the gun at Diller. The hood didn't say a word, deputies were told by Diller.

Diller described the youth as about 5 feet 7 inches, medium build, dressed in Levis and a light colored shirt with the sleeves rolled up.

Diller stated the youth drove away in what sounded like a noisy old model car.

Barbara Taylor, 18, of Martinez, awoke to see a youth with short sandy hair pointing a gun at her. Mrs. Taylor fled running to a nearby home. The girl's father, Emory Taylor, told police he observed a light green pickup speeding by him as he stopped his car near the house.

A little after 3 a.m. someone knocked on the door of Mrs. Edward Rosengarte of Martinez. She dashed out the back door and screamed for help. She told sheriff's deputies she heard the person run down the gravel path and drive off "in a roar."

Sheriff's deputies and police indicated to The Sun yesterday that the three boys who escaped from Juvenile Hall were not responsible for the crimes.

One lad turned himself in at the Hall Sunday and the other two were apprehended by police officers, Wednesday said John Davis of the Juvenile Hall.

Two were turned over to the county jail and the third, who turned himself in, was returned to the Hall.

Inspector Bob Miller of the Sheriff's Department and Martinez Police Captain Roy Nickola were of the same opinion that the breaking out of the three boys and the terrorism in the area was just a coincidence.

Summer Weather Remains While Autumn Presses Over County

It's not over yet!

The calendar tells us that summer is drawing to a close, but Sol is doing his best to make a last ditch stand for supremacy over the autumn elements.

The week started as if the local communities had "had it" in the way of summer heat, but just when things looked cloudiest, the mercury started zooming.

Hottest spot locally was the Walnut Creek-Pleasant Hill area which recorded a blazing 96 on Labor Day. Other communities weren't far behind, however, with highs of 94 and 90 being charted in Lafayette and Orinda, respectively.

The thermometer read like this:

	Lafayette		Orinda		Walnut Creek Pleasant Hill
	High	Low	High	Low	High	Low
August 30	76	55	69	53	75	55
August 31	77	50	73	51	77	55
September 1	82	53	88	45	79	53
September 2	94	53	90	45	91	51
September 3	85	52	94	47	96	56
September 4	87	51	89	44	90	54

Survey of Waterways Is Ordered

A survey of the present conditions of streams and creeks in Contra Costa County is underway, and a report will be submitted to the County Supervisors Tuesday by Carl Rich, County Flood Control District engineer, Victor Sauer, public works director and Arthur Seeley, agricultural commissioner.

The Supervisors ordered the survey at their meeting this week, after Sauer told them that the survey can be completed without an increase in the county payroll or expenses.

AT THE SAME time, brush and trees within the creeks which caused much trouble during the record rains last December can be removed, and with no undue expense to the county, Sauer said.

It is hoped, he indicated, that such action will lessen the danger of flood damage in the event of heavy rains about the Walnut Creek channel, and most other crucial areas.

After the first rain, another survey should be made to determine the success of the work, and later inspections to insure that the channels remain clear, Sauer added.

This "precautionary work" will mean a great saving to taxpayers if there is another wet winter, Supervisor Ivan Goyak commented.

FLOOD CONTROL work in Zone 3-B, including Walnut Creek, Lafayette, Pleasant Hill, and Alamo has proceeded on a limited scale since the failure of a $10 million bond issue last April for an all-out program of improving the main channels.

It was indicated recently that another bond election will be held tentatively on December 4.

Estimates of damage to homes and property in the zone due to winter flooding was placed at about $2 millions.

Bill Is $44,000 For New Bypass

Construction of the Ygnacio Bypass, routed along Green Village Road will cost about $44,000, about $6000 above earlier quotations, City Engineer Larry Milnes told Walnut Creek Councilmen Wednesday night.

The cost will have to be considered in the light of aid-to-cities amounting to about $12,000 instead of a hoped-for $38,000, they also learned.

With aid-to-cities money left over, about $14,000 is needed to complete the job, Milnes said.

Vandals Hit PH High for Fifth Time

For the fifth time since June vandals struck at Pleasant Hill High School over the Labor Day weekend, according to sheriff's reports.

The vandals, believed to be juveniles, broke into the school cafeteria and cut open a 100 pound sack of beans, spreading the sack's contents throughout the eating hall. Paper towels were torn to bits and scattered about. Faucets and fire hydrants were left running and soon flooded the grounds.

In other mischief the intruders sprayed the walls with a fire extinguisher.

Damage was placed at approximately $300 by school officials. The weekend vandalism also marks the second time since the summer months began that the school has been broken into and damaged.

The damage was discovered Monday morning, when a teacher preparing his clas for the opening of school entered the school grounds. He notified the sheriff's office.

Entry to the school was gained by the cutting of a screen from a cafeteria window. The sheriff's office is conducting an investigation of the case.

WC Annex Move is Opposed

Petitioners Are Assured 'No Force'

By NORMAN COLBY

Homeowners in the eastern part of the proposed Walnut Boulevard annexation on Wednesday night received assurances from Walnut Creek councilmen that they will not be "forced" to come into the city, and it was indicated that a redefination of boundaries by proponents will be necessary.

Dr. Robert Worthman of 77 Karen Lane, presented a petition opposing the annexation already recommended for approval by the city planners, it was signed by more than 60 persons, representing an estimated 30 homes.

There are about 150 homes in the entire proposed annexation, as presently bounded by Southern Pacific Railroad tracks on the west, by the Homestead Avenue on the east, by Ygnacio Avenue on the north and by Walker Avenue on the south.

WORTHMAN SAID he spoke for residents on Karen Lane, Jeffrey Lane, El Caminito and Homestead, who do not wish join Walnut Creek.

Councilman John Connolly explained that in the process of annexation, boundaries are defined, and an election is held. If a majority of the residents in the area defined favor annexation, the minority must automatically go along.

Worthman replied earnestly that his area is almost 100 per cent against annexation, whatever the situation esewhere.

HE ADDED, "Who has the right to define that area? No one in our area got the petition, and no one signed it. The first I heard of it was when the signs were posted on poles. It just doesn't seem right.

Connolly offered that at least this was a democratic method, and City Attorney John Nejedly injected that there is no provision for exclusion under this procedure, and that the oriignal proponents would have to re-define their boundaries, as already approved by the Boundary Commission, if they wish to heed the opposition plea.

Worthman was joined in his arguments by Andrew Rylander of 900 Jeffrey Lane, Charles Shepler of 910 Jeffrey Lane, Donald Hagen of 931 Jeffrey Lane and others.

SOOTHINGLY, Mayor E. C. Counter Jr. told the filled council room that, "The council feels that if you don't want in, we do not want to be put in a position of forcing you in. But we hope that you some day will choose to come in."

"Our desire is to fill our city borders from the present irregular shape, but not at the expense of the friendship of close neighbors," he added.

The entire matter was taken under consideration. The next council meeting will be September 19.

MONDAY THROUGH SATURDAY will be known as Civil Defense Week in all parts of the United States. Rate Book Hearing Set Wednesday

Hearing by the Public Utilities Commission of the proposed commute rate for Pleasant Hill residents will be Wednesday in the Commission Courtroom, State Building, San Francisco.

Examiner Wilson E. Cline will preside at the adjourned hearing scheduled for 10 a.m. All interested parties may appear and be heard at the Wednesday meeting and all subsequent hearings, according to Ralph Bell, special representative of the PUC.

The case brought about by difference in commute books from the Martinez-Berkeley route and the Walnut Creek - Berkeley-Oakland-San Francisco route brought heated comments from area commuters and officers of the Contra Costa Commuters Association.

AT PRESENT, Pleasant Hill residents must board a Martinez-Berkeley bus at various stops along Pleasant Hill Road. At this point they must pay a fee which is not covered by a commute book rate. That fee is 30 cents to and from the Acalanes Junction at Mt. Diablo Boulevard and Peasant Hill Road, according to George Cummings, former president of the commuter organization.

"At this point commute books are honored to Oakland and San Francisco points by the Greyhound Company. If the rider is to purchase Martinez - Berkeley commute books he hardly gets the commute benefit for such a trip. The distance traveled by Pleasant Hill commuters on this leg of the route averages five to 10 miles at most," continued Cummings.

"THE ONLY alternative for the Pleasant Hill commuter is to drive his car to the bus station on Contra Costa Highway where there are little, if any parking facilities, or to drive to the Acalanes Junction and park in that area. That is the only way in which the Pleasant Hill Road commuter may save the additional 60 cent fare.

"We seek to obtain a commute book to serve such a purpose. Greyhound at a hearing last year moved that the entire case be dismissed. At that time the PUC voted to take the situation under advisement and set Wednesday as the date for another hearing."

APPEARING on behalf of Pleasant Hill commuters at the fall meet were John McKirahan and Leroy Sowers, past president of the commuter organization, who are expected to appear again before the PUC Wednesday.

The request of the Commuters Association asks that a rate and commute book be established for residents on the Martienz-Berkeley route who commute to Ooakland and San Francscio points, according to Cummings.

Thompson is Plan Group Chairman

New chairman of the Walnut Creek Planning Commission is Morrie Thompson, who was elected August 29, after Chairman Roger Guichard declared his intention not to seek reappointment to the group.

William Anderson was re-elected vice-chairman, and Mrs. Roy Nelson was re-elected secretary.

Guichard, whose four-year appointment expires on Tuesday, said that pressing business makes it impossible for him to continue.

A resident of Walnut Creek for about 11 years, he owns a manufacturing machine shop business in Oakland.

It is likely that the commission will submit soon a list of residents who would make valuable additions to the commission, and the council is expected to pick one of them to fill Guichard's place as member.

Nine Persons Hurt in Holiday Road Mishaps

Nine persons received minor injuries in traffic mishaps during the Labor Day holiday.

There were also a total of nine accidents, six of them not requiring a run to the Kaiser hospital. A local mother and her son were struck in a crosswalk. One man was charged with being drunk in and about a car where no injury was involved.

Mrs. Evelyn Schrieber, 37, of 756 Hazlewood Drive, Walnut Creek, and her son, Edward, 8, crossing South Main near the Newell intersection, were hit last Friday afternoon by a car driven by Ray Stanley, 22, of 41 Aloha Court, Walnut Creek.

MOTHER AND CHILD were thrown about 20 feet. Police officers investigating said that the car "had no brakes whatsoever," and cited Stanley for violation of a pedestrian right-of-way and having faultv brakes.

The car was a 1949 sedan.

A head-on collision on Oakland Boulevard Monday afternoon hurt Otho F. Mills Jr., 18, of 1091 Orchard Road, Lafayette, driver of the car headed south, and three persons in th other car.

They were Thomas Schoenthaler, 28, of Oakland, driver, his mother, Rena, and daughter, Robin, 2½.

MILLS WAS CITED for driving on the wrong side of the road. He tol dofficers he had glanced at the instrument panel for a moment before the accident occurred.

Three persons were hurt early Monday morning in a rear end collision at North Main and Oakland Boulevard.

Alfred A. Baldini, 30, of 24 Davis Street, stopped preparatory to a left turn, he said, when his car was struck in the rear by a car driven by Frederick George, 36, of 201 Mahew Way, Pleasant Hill.

Both drivers were injured, and also Martha Baldini, a passenger in the lead car.

CITED FOR BEING DRUNK in or about a car was Emory Stearns, 59, of 2120 San Luis Road, Walnut Creek. His car collided with a parked car on Broadway Street, west of Main, last Friday evening.

On August 29, just before the holiday weekend, a local woman called to report that her husband's car had accidentally struck a dog on Shuey Street.

Only other street hazard was reported at 7 a.m., Tuesday morning, when a call came in that a horse was on the loose near Newell and Main. It turned out that Wayne Figroid of 75 Bishop Lane had his steed tied to a tree before taking it to a horse show elsewhere.

Sneak Thief Nabs $70 From Home

The home of Mrs. Francis Hewitson, 301 Sunset Road, Pleasant Hill was burglarized Monday as the family ate a barbecue meal on the patio.

Mrs. Hewitson reported to the Contra Costa Sheriff office that a sneak theief had ransacked the glove compartment of the family car parked in front of the house and then entered a bedroom, took $70 from a purse and left.

The Hewitsons reported nothing was missing from the glove compartment. The burglary took place some time between 7:30 and 8:30 p.m. Investigating the case is Deputy Bill Waldeck.

Locked Doors Protect Children

Locked doors on the car of Mrs. R. B. Oliver of 3110 Walnut Boulevard prevented an unknown man from entering the car in which her children, Janet, 6, and Clyde, 3, weer seated, she told Walnut Creek police officers August 29.

Mrs. Oliver was in the grocery store when the man attempted to open the doors. The stranger wore a checked shirt and brown pants, and had black hair, she said.

Supervisors Proclaim Sept. 9-15 as Civil Defense Week

Recognizing the importance of an interested and informed public, the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors last week issued a Proclamation naming September 9 through 15 as National Civil Defense Week in Contra Costa County. The text of the Proclamation is as follows:

WHEREAS, the maintenance of peace and, as an alternative, personal and national survival in the event of enemy attack are of paramount interest to the citizens of CONTRA COSTA COUNTY, and

WHEREAS, the existence of a strong and efficient civil defense is recognized as a means of attaining these goals, and

WHEREAS, the strength of the Nation's civil defense depends upon the state of individual and community disaster preparedness throughout the Nation, and

WHEREAS, President Eisenhower has called upon the Nation to observe the week of September 9-15 as Civil Defense Week as a means of developing an awareness of the need for general participation in civil defense,

NOW, THEREFORE, the Contra Costa County Board of Supervisors do hereby proclaim the aforementioned week as Civil Defense Week in CONTRA COSTA COUNTY and urge the residents of CONTRA COSTA COUNTY to participate in the observance of this week.

City Has 50-50 Deal with County

Walnut Creek will go 50-50 with the county in replacing an existing 24-inch culvert with a 42-inch culvert across Larkey Lane, north of San Luis Road, Councilmen decided Wednesday night.

Youth Curfew Is Tightened

More rigid enforcement of curfew for boys and girls under 18 years of age will be made now that summer vacation is over, Walnut Creek Police Chief John Jordan said today.

The hours when the juveniles must be off the streets, except where they have an emergency errand, or are in the company of parents or guardians are from 10:30 p.m. to sunrise, seven days a week.

The city ordinance forbids youngsters to, "loiter, idle, wander, stroll or play" on the streets during the forbidden hours.

Officers took into custody three boys, one 15 years old, and the others 16, Monday morning at 2:20 and questioned them before release.

Few Businesses To Close Monday In Central County

City and county offices, banks, schools and parking meters will be the only institutions which will observe Admission Day.

The post offices and mail delivery throughout Contra Costa will operate per usual. Most business houses will be open during regular hours on Monday also.

Admission Day, which observes the anniversary of California's entry to the Union will fall on Sunday but will be observed Monday.

Since the day is a holiday, parking meters will be free all day long.

Heather Farm Plans

Plans for the development of the southeast portion of Heather Farms, recently annexed to Walnut Creek, are near completion City Engineer Larry Milnes told Councilmen Wednesday night. There are 60 lots in the limited area outlined.

Ike Salutes Shannon... By Mistake

When a person has a chance to see the President of the United States, it is something to talk about at home. When he gets to speak, even briefly, to the top executive, it is an occasion he will tell family and friends about for days to come.

But when he accidentally is taken for a Secret Service guard and has the President salute and walk by him with a cordial greeting, it is a story worthy of being passed down to grandchildren.

It seems that this is the tale the descendants of Bill Shannon, owner of Iron and Clay, Lafayette, will be subjected to, for Shannon recently had just such an experience.

Toward the conclusion of the recent Republican convention in San Francisco, the tall Shannon arrived at the St. Francis Hotel in the city to act as one of the Young Republican hosts to out-of-town GOP celebrities.

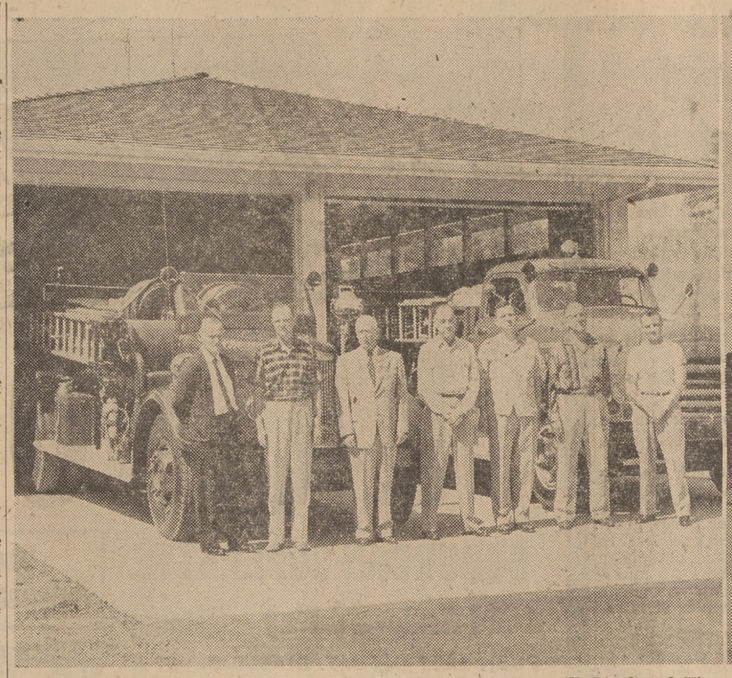

Arriving at the hotel, at which President Eisenhower incidentally was staying, about 4 p.m. August 23, Shannon was about an hour early for the cocktail party.

Trying to kill the hour, he walked out to the front steps of the hotel. There, he reports, he spotted six Secret Servicemen standing about nonchanlantly, apparently waiting to escort the President from the hotel to the Cow Palace where he was to make his acceptance speech as the GOP presidential candidate.

Shannon, inadvertantly, stood with them, not realizing how natural he looked among the agents. Before long, a hum of excitement was emitted from inside the hotel. The crouds outside strained to catch a glimpse of Ike.

When the President walked out on his way to his waiting limousine, he walked directly by Shannon, saluted and issued a friendly "Hi" to the awed local. Mamie, who walked with Ike, also waved and smiled to him, Shannon claims with no little pride.

"Imagine the President walking right by me," he said excitedly. "Why, that was the first time I've ever seen a president."

Gerow Gets Apartment Building OK

By a vote of 4 to 1 the County Board of Supervisors Tuesday approved Dr. E. C. Gerow's application for a land use permit to build a $250,000 apartment house on the north side of Bickerstaff Street about 210 feet west of Dewing Avenue, Lafayette.

In granting Dr. Gerow's appeal against Board of Adjustment denial of his application, the supervisors attached the provision that he may build five floors for living purposes, above the ground, and one floor for garage use on ground level, but that the building must not be taller than 50 feet from ground level.

Supervisor Ivan Goyak voted against granting Dr. Gerow's appeal. Goyak expressed fear that approval would establish a precedent for variations in M-R-A (mulitiple--residential) zones.

PRESENT ZONING for M-R-A limits apartment buildings to four stories and 50 feet in height.

Dr. Gerow's original application was for a six-story, 61-foot-high, 24-unit structure.

Motion in favor of Dr. Gerow's request was by Supervisor W. G. Buchanan, seconded by Supervisor Ray Taylor.

IN ADDITION to granting Dr. Gerow's request, the supervisors instructed the County Planning Commission to review the zoning ordinance as it applies to M-R-A zones, with the view toward determining whether that portion of the ordinance should be reviesd.

Such revision was suggested recently by President Larry Blakesley of the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce, in a letter to the Board of Supervisors. That letter is being studied by the district attorney's office.

It has been brought to the attention of our Board of Directors," Blakesley wrote, "that certain ordinances prevailing, originated a decade or more past, have limited a natural change for our economic basis; a stunting of assessable tax values, which in turn would broaden the tax base to the advantage of the general area taxpayer."

URGING REVISION of the ordinance, Blakesley stated that without such change "a development of a 'slum area' in tired little old houses adjacent to the business area is imminent, due to termite infestation and general antiquity, for obvious reasons of lack of capital interest."

He added. "A specific case in point is the present effort for the construction of a type 'A' apartment building, essential to the area's growth, actually preventing a 'hardship condition' for those in need of good fireproof apartment housing, scarcity of which we are sure you are aware."

Opposition to Dr. Gerow's application had been registered by the Lafayette Improvement Association, through William Zion, planning committee chairman, and by Attorney James Ring, representing property owners in the area.

Business Clinic Set for Monday

Advice to businessmen on merchandising and salesmanship will highlight the program of the first of two Management and Sales clinics Monday night at El Nido Rancho.

Co-sponsored by the Promotional Division of the Lafayette Chamber of Commerce and East Contra Costa Junior College, the program will be preceded by dinner at 7 p.m.

ANOTHER IMPORTANT aspect of the meeting will be a discussion by merchants throughout the area of plans for the 110th Lafayette anniversary celebration.

With the clinic beginning at 7:30, the first speaker of the evening will be Harold Starr, executive secretary of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce.

Starr will be answering the question as he speaks on "Who Are Your Customers?"

MERCHANDISING will be the subject of Carolyn N. Tilley's talk, "What Do People Buy?" She is instructor of merchandising at Vallejo Junior College and a former training director for Capwell's in Oakland.

With every merchant in the area invited to attend the clinic and meeting, Mrs. W. B. Warswick, chairman of the Lafayette chamber's Promotional Division, expressed the hope that "all store owners and managers will attend, not only to benefit from the clinic but also to join in the discussion of anniversary plans."

SHE ADDED that the chamber is attempting to make this anniversary "better than ever."

Dinner will cost $2.50 per person, but interested persons may attend the meeting after dinner if they desire.

The second clinic, scheduled for October, will be primarily a sales conference. It will also be held at El Nido and will generally follow the same schedule as Monday's meet.

Chamber Asks Merchants to Return Listings

All Orinda merchants have been requested by Clarence Betz, secretary of the Orinda Chamber of Commerce, to return directory listings to the chamber so that the new directory might be printed next month.

Betz made his request at a chamber luncheon meeting Tuesday at Casa Orinda.

An announcement was also made that the chamber has printed and distributed signs urging people in the community to register to vote. These signs have been placed prominently in the Orinda Village and Orinda Crossroads areas.

Vice-president Maynard Buehler, presiding over the meeting in the absence of President Merle Brown, reported on his visit last week to the Air National Guard camp and training program at Boise, Idaho.

Buehler said that he made the visit on the personal invitation of the commanding general, Rollin B. Moore, an Orinda resident.

The vice-president went on to praise the efficiency of the operation, crediting the outstanding function to the executive ability of General Moore.

He also told of the flight he took in a jet plane.

Welcome Given New Educators

New educators joining Springhill School's staff this term were honored and welcomed August 27 at a luncheon given by the school's PTA board of directors.

The luncheon, held at the school, was prepared and served by Hospitality Chairman Mrs. A. L. Meggs and her father, James Demitropulos, former restauranteur.

Giving official welcome to the now teachers was Vice-President Mrs. Gerald Berger. Added to the staff this semester are:

Mrs. Grace Day, Mrs. Billie Wisner, Mrs. Phylis Mirsky, Mrs. Marian Dove, Mrs. Johanna Black, Lawrence Buttwinick and Don Williams. Williams will serve as vice-principal at Springhill.

The group was introduced by Principal Eleanor Diel.

Rotary Hears of Turkish Progress

Erdine Arbil, a Turkish student currently studying Petroleum Engineering at the University of California, was the principal speaker Wednesday at the noon luncheon-meeting of Orinda Rotary.

In the program arranged by Jim Kral, Arbil informed Rotary members of the history of his country, its customs and the progress is has made in recent years.

Arbil has been in the United States for 14 months. He said that Turkey has made its greatest strides since the close of World War II.

The Turkish government, he disclosed, has forced the abandonment of the ancient Moslem custom of women wearing veils in the streets. Also outlawed, he said, is the Communist party in Turkey.

Ninety per cent of Turkey is Moslem, he stated. The rest of the population is either Roman Catholic or Greek Orthodox.

New Orinda Fire House is 'Just Fine' Say Inspectors

The new third fire station in Orinda "more than met my expectations" was the comment offered by Orinda Fire Chief H.E. Wyatt following an inspection Saturday of the nearly completed house at the corner of Honeyhill Road and Via Las Cruces.

Although some minor work remains to be done on the new station, Wyatt, members of the Board of Fire Commissioners and secretary Clarence Betz were able to get a complete picture of the structure and its operations on the Saturday visit.

ALL CONCURRED, Wyatt reported, that the work done by the Romley Construction Company of Walnut Creek "was just fine."

The chief said that the minor work left to be done would be completed by the end of the month, at which time the commissioners, headed by President Z. J. Montgomery, would file a certificate of completion.

The $29,584 structure, upon which construction was begun last March, is supplementing the fire protection offered by the two older houses.

HOUSING TWO fire trucks, one with a 1000 gallon pumping capacity and the other with a 500 gallon capacity, the new station has two men on duty on 24 hour shifts.

The house was built, Wyatt reported, as part of the fire district's decentralization program, designed to offer speedier service and more adequate protection.

HE ADDED that one of the greatest spurs to construction of the new house was the recent annexation of the Charles Hill area to the district from the Lafayette Fire Distriet.

"The Charles Hill area is right across from the third fire house," he said, "and it can now be given the extra protection it needs."

Church Guild to Meet Tuesday

Next Tuesday will begin the monthly Woman's Guild luncheons at the Orinda Community Church.

Commencing promptly at 12:30, the program will include selections by the Orinda Dramateurs and a book review by Mrs. Stuart L. Anderson.

Persons interested who have not been contacted by Circle chairmen may make reservations by calling Mrs. R. E. Smith, CL 4-2916, the Guild announces.

School Library Material Readied

In order that pupils of the Lafayette Elementary School may enjoy a large asosrtment of new library books, members of the Lafayette School Parent-Teachers Association recently helped to process some 700 volumes.

The books, including both fiction and non-fiction, were selected by members of the teaching staff of the school last April. Many picture books are in the group and also many stories and information sources for the fourth, fifth and sixth grades have been selected.

PTA members who have assisted in this project included Mrs. Charles Fogg, Mrs. Frank Leland, Mrs. Dwight Birch, Mrs. Alan Laird, Mrs. Marland Chandler, Mrs. Charles Griffiths and Mrs. Charles Church.

Lions' Annual Barbecue Is Tomorrow

Looking forward to their usual lucky break with the weatherman, Lafayette Lions are awaiting 600 people for their fifth annual barbecue to be held tomorrow at Little Hills Ranch near San Ramon, according to Tom Jacobsen Jr., chairman of the event.

Jacobsen has announced that this year's party will be the best one yet, what with numerous fun booths offering valuable prizes for both men and women.

They include a barbecue grazier, a $50 beauty treatment and permanent wave, a portable radio, an electric shaver, salamis and cigarettes and cigars.

Jacobsen urges everyone to contact a Lion member, who, for $2.50, will give a "passport to paradise," which will include swimming and dancing from 3 to 3, plus a New York steak dinner.

Staffing Jacobsen's committee are: Danny Dys, games; Norm Ironside and Bud Wood, food; Stan Knight, beverages and snack bar; Roy Gesinger, public address, and Lou Repetto, ticket sales.

Auto Trends to Be Told Rotary

"Autos — Past, Present and Future" will be the all-inclusive topic of Douglas M. Fitzgerald as he addresses members of the Lafayette Rotary at the club's noon luncheon meeting Thursday at the Tunnel Inn.

Fitzgerald is a representative of the National Automobile Club and is well familiar with his subject. His talk will cover the trends of automobile design and structure and the effects cars have had and will have on our culture.

Rotary members last week heard Sheriff Harry A. Brown speak on law enforcement problems in this area.

Local Soldier Finds Army Real 'Cool'

Army Pvt. John L. Biasotti Jr., whose parents live at 1139 Upper Happy Valley Road, is participating in "Exercise Cold Spot" at Camp Hale, Colo.

The two-month long exercise is providing individual and unit training in mountain and cold-weather warfare at two-mile-high Hale, sub-post of Fort Carson.

Biasotti will return to Fort Riley, Kan., after the exercise ends in late September.

He entered the Army in September, 1955, and is a 1955 graduate of St. Mary's College.

Kelly Fry in Navy, On USS Caliente

Kelly Fry, 18-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Fry of 1020 First Street, Lafayette, is in the U.S. Navy. He is a fireman on the USS Caliente, an oil tanker, in Pacific waters. He recently left Japan.

Kelly, who attended Acalanes High School, was in the Naval Reserve for a year before joining the regular Navy last February.

4500-mile Journey Ends for Orindans

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Brown, 9 Orchard Court, Orinda, and children Ronie, Robin and Carolyn have returned from a 4500-mile trailer trip into Canada.

They were on the road for 24 days and visited Victoria, Vancouver, Banff, Lake Louise, the Columbia Ice Fields, Jasper Park and Glacier and Yellowstone Parks on the return trip.

H.S. Parents To Be Queried On Civil Defense

Acalanes High School District trustees have decided to make a study of civil defense procedures by polling parents of the students of the district to determine what action trustees should take on the recommendation of county civil defense authorities that pupils in event of disaster would be evacuated eastward under CD auspices.

The study will be made in the form of a letter to be sent each parent.

In other action at their meeting last week, Acalanes District trustees called for bids to fix the creek channel under the right-of-way bridge providing access to Las Lomas High and put under study bids submitted for a multi-use room, landscaping, tennis courts and bus facilities at Miramonte High.

A bid for resurfacing work on the Acalanes track was deemed too high and no action was taken.

CD Courses Begin Soon

Two courses in Basic Civil defense have been scheduled to begin in September. These 8 hour courses are open to everyone and no fee is charged.

They include such subjects as the organization and functions of Civil Defense against atomic attack, against biological, chemical and other forms of attack, familly and neighborhood protection in natural or war caused disasters. Interesting and instructive films are shown at each class.

The first course will begin September 17, 8 to 10 p.m., in the library of the Stranwood School, 416 Gladys Drive, Pleasant Hill, and will continue on September 24, October 1, and 8.

Walter Kelson, a teacher in the Mt. Diablo High School, will be the instructor. This course is sponsored by the Gregory Gardens Civil Defense Sub-council.

For information call the County Office, Martinez 2888, or Mrs. Beverly Fornas, MU 5-5144.

Another course will begin on September 24, 8 to 10 p.m., in the library of the San Ramon Valley Union High School, Danville, and will continue on October 1, 8, 15, and 22. Kenneth Bailey of the Acalanes High School Faculty will be the instructor.

This course is sponsored by the San Ramon Valley Civil Defense Sub-council.

For information call the County Office, Martinez 2888, or Mr. James B. Cozens at VE 7-4141.

Plan Course Is Thursday

Contra Costa County residents who are interested in community planning may enroll for a University of California Extension course in "Planning for Community Improvement" to be given this fall in Martinez.

The class will meet next Thursday, at 7 p.m. at Alhambra Junior High School.

FIRST OFFICIAL visitors to the Rheem Valley Parade of Homes in Moraga were these members of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board. Now nearing completion under sponsorship of the General Contractors Association of Contra Costa County, the parade will be open to the public during National Home Week, September 15 through 23.

Deadline Next Thursday For Signup for Election

There are 48 authorized registration places in the central county where residents may qualify to vote in the November 6 elections, if they act on or before next Thursday, according to County Clerk Walter T. Paasch.

This includes 18 in Walnut Creek, 2 in Saranap, 5 in Alamo, 9 in Lafayette, 4 in Moraga, 8 in Orinda, 1 in Canyon and 1 at St. Mary's.

Ballots will be cast in November for U.S. president, U.S. vice-president, U.S. senator and congressman, state senator and assemblyman from the 10th district, supervisor in the second and fifth districts, and others.

PAASCH SAID that residents who failed to vote in either of the two statewide elections in 1954 must re-register.

Persons who have moved since their last registration are also required to re-register.

If a voter's name is changed either by marriage or by court order, re-registration is also necessary.

Would-be voters who turn 21 years of age on or before the November 6 general election may register but must do so by the September 13 deadline.

Newcomers to the county may sign up if they have been a California resident for one year, and a resident of the county on or before August 9, which is 90 days prior to the general election, Paasch said.

ANYONE WHO becomes a U.S. citizen on or before August 8 and fulfills the other residence requirements is also eligible to register.

Registration as a voter can be accomplished in the County Clerk's office in Martinez or Richmond or with any of the nearly 300 registration locations throughout the county.

Some misunderstanding has developed by residents who did not vote in June of this year. If the voter's residence is the same as his last registration there is no necessity to complete a new affidavit as many are doing, Paasch explained.

Registration of over 10,000 voters is necessary for the county to reach its all-time peak of 158,667 for the 1954 general election.

REGISTRATION at the Walnut Creek city hall is on Friday evenings at 7 to 9, and Saturdays from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. Registration deputies in the area taking signups are as follows:

Fire? Hot-rods? No, It's Only the 'Rural Rallye'

If you are suddenly startled tonight by a roar of motors, grinding of gears and screeching wheels, your first thought might be hot-rodders, fire-addicts or drunken drivers.

You'll be wrong in all three instances.

The fired-up car engines will only signify the beginning of the Volkswagen Air-cooled Club's "Rural Rallye," which is slated to get under way at 7:30 p.m. from the intersection of Moraga Road and Rheem Boulevard.

The time-distance race, which is open to all cars for the $1.50 entry fee, will cover the ground from Orinda to Lafayette. Racers will drive to Lafayette, turn south on Moraga Road and drive three miles.

The rallye will last for from two to three hours and awards will be given to the first five cars.

All finishers will receive a plaque from the club.

With post entries only accepted, each car must be equipped with two flares, a flashlight, and all running lights must work.

Racers will gather at the Rheem Center at 7 p.m.

'Parade of Homes' is Soon

A city block of homes, each built by a different construction firm, will be featured in the Contra Costa "Parade of Homes" in Moraga Valley just beyond Rheem Center September 15 through 23.

The "Parade" will take place during National Home Week and, according to Chairman Jack Eyman, each home will be completely decorated and furnished, several of them having swimming pools.

Under the auspices of the General Contractors' Association, the event will present a variety of home types, from traditional through contemporary, to give viewers a one-stop look at the newest home developments.

Eyman emphasized that the event will be the first of its kind held in the Bay Area. It carries the official approval of the National Association of Home Builders, sponsors of National Home Week, he stated.

Shriners Plan Western Night For Tomorrow

The Walnut Creek Elks lodge hall will be the scene tomorrow night of a Western dinner and program by the Contra Costa Shrine Club. Cocktails at 7 and Shrine Club. Cocktails start at 7 and dinner at 8, followed by dancing and entertainment.

The Shrine Club is anticipating a turnout of 250 members and guests for the first event of the fall season. Plans were arranged at the breakfast meeting of the club's board of directors in the El Monte Drive-In, Concord.

Thomas Joyce of Pittsburg is general chairman. A special program is planned in addition to music by Scotty Neilson and his band. Ginghams and jeans will be worn and reservations are made with Frank Kupper, secretary.

Robert Reynolds of Pleasant Hill and Jack Clark of Concord were added to the board of directors to fill vacancies at the recent meeting.

Local Families Take In Disneyland Sights

Two local families have reported a "wonderful" time during their recent stays at the Disneyland Hotel in Southern California.

Taking in the Disneyland sights were:

Mr. and Mrs. James Hallaran and their children, 59 Hillcrest Drive, Orinda, and Mr. and Mrs. M. E. Barckley and daughter Susan, 3195 Camino Colorados, Lafayette.

Scholarships at Cal Awarded to 7 Local Students

Seven local students at the University of California, Berkeley, were among more than 600 winners of undergraduate scholarships on that campus, it was announced recently by the Committee on Undergraduate Scholarships.

The scholarships, the university disclosed, are for the 1956-57 academic year, and are awarded on the basis of scholarship, need and promise, or according to special conditions set up by the donor.

Receiving the awards locally were:

From Lafayette — Alanson Guy Burt, Senior, Emanuel S. Heller Memorial Scholarship; George Lorin Coad, Sophomore, Hermine L. Kruger Scholarship; Richard Frederick Knobel, Senior, Elizabeth Dinneen Scholarship; Carolyn May Olsson, Senior, Genevieve McEnerney Scholarship.

From Orinda — Christine Brewster Winters, Senior, Genevieve McEnerney Scholarship.

From Walnut Creek — Arthur Layd Deleray, Junior, Isaias W. Hellman Scholarship; Donald A. Pieper Jr., Freshman, Honorary Scholarship.

Folk Dance Festival is Planned Here

Gay music and costumed dancers will combine for the folk dance festival September 16, on the Walnut Creek City Park.

This is the monthly festival of the Folk Dance Federation of California, hosted by the Diablo Council of Folk Dance and Square Dance Clubs. The program will begin at 1:30 following the Federation Council meeting in the Recreation Center.

Balkan dances, which have become popular in the past two years, will begin the evening program at 6:15, followed by general international folk and square dancing.

American square dances will be directed by callers from the Bay Area. During the afternoon Peg Allmond, Randy Randolph, Jack McKay, Ursula Mooney and Vic Wintheiser will be at the microphone.

The evening program will feature callers from the immediate area and the dancers will hear Reva and Glenn Ward, Reid Patterson and Bev Wilder.

Gerry Cross, president of the Diablo Council, appointed Harry Donaldson of Danville as chairman of the festival. He has the able assistance of Angie Laven and Jo Shelley in arranging the program.

Several exhibition groups will appear during the afternoon, among them a group of local teenagers under the direction of Bev Wilder.

The public is invited and spectators are certain to enjoy the sprightly music and festive atmosphere of a typical old-world fete.

Lutheran

Faith Lutheran Church, Pleasant Hill, Sunday Divine Worship is at 11 a.m. with a message by the Rev. William Backus.

Sunday School classes meeting at 9:30 a.m. are divided into three sections: Children will study the Bible lesson, "The Boy Joseph." The teenage and adult Bible classes will each continue studying the Gospel of Mark.

The Voters Assembly is scheduled to meet Tuesday evening at 8 p.m.

The Boy Scout Troop meets regularly each Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. The choir meets each Thursday evening at 7:30 p.m.

Montecito PTA Hosts School Faculty, Staff

The faculty and staff of the Montecito School and School Superintendent W. B. Ellis were feted at a picnic luncheon recently by the Montecito PTA Board of Directors.

The honored guests, among whom was Montecito Principal Fred Davidson and Mrs. Davidson, were toasted at the Westminister Place, Walnut Creek, home of Mr. and Mrs. Alex Barr.

Following introductions of new faculty members, luncheon was served around the Barr pool.

Featured speaker at the first Montecito PTA meeting of the new term, next Tuesday will be Miss Margaret Lyon, Dean of Music at Mills College.

Speaking in the Kindergarten room at the school, Miss Lyon's topic will be "Dynamics in Music Education."

Highways Will Bring Rebirth of Walnut Creek

By BILL HAYWARD

WALNUT CREEK AND THE FUTURE

This little whistle stop will be REBORN come the completion of the modern highway system by the State of California and the completion of the Master Plan by the City itself. Most folks fail to realize that this wee town just grew too fast for the planners and the road wideners. The allotment of Federal Funds to improve Highway 21 just pushed the entire program ahead approximately 3 years.

Houses are already being moved from Newell Avenue which indicates ACTION on the south leg of the W. C. Bypass. Oakland Boulevard, Buena Vista Avenue and on to the north seems to show signs of the north leg cutting it's way thru toward San Luis Road. Don't be too peeved about downtown Walnut Creek traffic. . . . the new streets and roads will be in sooner than you think.

CONTRA COSTA COUNTY

It has enjoyed almost twice the industrial expansion of any other Bay Area county in the last six years according to figures just issued by the Industrial Department of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce. Contra Costa has 58 new plant constructions plus 151 plant expansions for a total investment of $343,267,144.

CALIFORNIA VETERANS HOME LOANS

On the November ballot you will find the $500,000,000 bond election for the financing of "Cal-Vet" Farm and home loans. Our own State has for a number of years operated a most successful financing program for California Veterans.

The low interest rate, the low monthly payments and the effecient methods of loan processing make this type of financing very attractive to the borrower. The program has more than paid for itself on this basis. Let's do everything we can to keep this type of home loan available. . . . VOTE in November!

WASHINGTON, D. C.

The Federal Housing Administration "FHA" to you and me will now make limited home loans to folks over age 65 This I believe is a wonderful step in the right direction. . . . We all know that if a person can live thru the first 65 that there must be another good 15 or twenty to go See your banker for their interpretation of the new FHA rule.

PLANNING COMMISSION

It was rather dissappointing to see the Walnut Creek Planners under the pressure of a 40 signature petition change the original Master Zoning Plan in such a small area west of Oakvale Road back to single family (R1) zoning. It Planner Bill Anderson had not thoroughly studied the matter, an even larger area might have been effected.

Three of the members of the Commission that live in the area under study should have been disqualified and not allowed to vote on this zoning matter. In fact the original R2 Zoning should never have been in question. . . . If this type of zoning BUNGLING continues, to whom can we look to uphold the present zoning laws?

Elks Planning Dance, Buffet, September 15

The Walnut Creek Elks Club 1811 will hold an annual dance and buffet at the new lodge on South Main Street September 15, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

There will be dancing to the music of Doug Kidd and his talented quartet.

Buffet dinner will be served at 11 p.m. Tickets will be available at the door at $2 per couple, but reservations may be made in advance.

The Elks Club has also made arrangements for the Walnut Festival Queen contestants to attend in order that all members and their guests may meet the nine candidates in person, according to James O. Ring, local attorney, chairman.

Members serving on the committee include Paul Napolitano, Claude M. McPhee, Robert Price, James Cryderman and Henry G. Drabin.

Local Girl Arranges Dance

A freshman reception dance will be held tonight at 7:30 for new students of East Contra Costa Junior College.

Pat Doughtery of Walnut Creek, commissioner of social activities, is in charge.

Girls' State Activities Told

Marilyn Engelhard, a senior at Acalanes High School, was guest speaker Wednesday at the regular meeting of the Lafayette American Legion Auxiliary Unit 517.

She described her week of activity at the Girls' State session last June in Sacramento.

Marilyn was selected to represent her school at Girls' Ctate on the basis of her outstanding scholarship, citizenship and interest in government. She was one of the candidates from all over California gathered in the capital for instruction and experience in the procedures of government.

Marilyn was sponsored by the Lafayette unit of the American Legion Auxiliary.

15 Local Boys Home From Adventure in Wilderness

Automobiles, soft chairs and warm homes must seem a pretty sedate change to 15 Orinda boys who recently arrived on the local scene full of tales of adventure about their canoe excursion through the Canaditn wilderness.

The boys are members of Explorer Post 300 who, along with advisor Gerry Cullen and assistant advisor Dr. Ralph Hall, spent a week in August traveling some 200 miles up rushing rivers and across mirror-smooth lakes in the wilds of the Quetico area of Ontario.

THE SCOUTS left Orinda on August 15 by bus for Ely, Minn., where they met Cullen and Hall, who had flown.

Once there, after picking up canoes and supplies, the group was on its own. As they rowed in the eight small boats north from Ely, they left the conveniences of modern society and entered a world of sky-scraping, unsettled forests, untamed wildlife and independence.

When they arrived at Quetico, the boys aind their advisors made their base on Kawnipi Lake Island, a small piece of land whose surrounding water protected the adventurers from the perils, including black bears, of forest life.

FROM THE ISLAND, the group would venture out by canoe for a day of rowing, exquisite scenery and hiking. Toward the end of the day they would return to cook dinner, tell their tales, and go to sleep under the stars.

One of the surprising sights, reported Cullen, was the preponderance of black bears the campers spotted. One, he said, was a mother bear with three cubs, a rarity among that species.

All was not beauty, however, as the explorers encountered both swift currents and rivers made inaccessible by the beavers' dams.

WHEN THE DAMS blocked their passage, Cullen said, they had no alternative but to make for the shore and carry the boats around the barriers.

Another difficulty, he stated, was the daily light rainfall that fell in the area.

"The weather wasn't as good as California's by any means, but still it didn't cause much trouble."

IMPRESSED by the natural beauty of the country, the explorers stood awe-struck one night at the sight of aurora borealis, a natural phenmenon which emits a luminous light through the sky.

Not only was scenery colorful, Cullen stated, but the air was also full of eerie but enchanting sounds. At night, he said, the campers would lie back and listen to the weird howling of wolves, the ribald laughter of loons and the solemn hooting of the owls.

Following their injuryless week on the island, the group decided to take a different route back to Ely from the one they traveled up.

MORE ADVENTURE lay in store as sudden squalls would blow up and the river would rage.

But all eight boats returned safely to Ely, and the boys had had a memorable experience.

Leader among the explorers was Senior Crew Leader Tom Hannan. His deputy was Bill Ward.

Other young adventurers were: John Hall, Ed Rinne, Mike Halloran, Walter Bumgarner, Steve DeMaria, John Dodge, Buck Hall, Lyn Hill, Ron Larson, Steve Parks, Joe Sheaff, Al Sutton and Jack Doty.

Friendly Farms-Orchard

By PERSIS K. REED, AT 3-2405

Is it quiet around the house—do you feel emancipated or a little sad because your first has started off to school, or your last baby has joined the school bus set? It's really not so bad that children get older so fast but they drag their parents along with them.

PINT-SIZED HERO

One new kindergartener who had a pretty exciting experience was Billy Burkard of Willow Drive.

He went to Disneyland with his grandparents and on the way home, they stopped at Holiday Inn in Bakersfield. Billy was playing with a three-year-old vacationer and with his grandfather in the swimming pool. He got out for a little while and was sitting on the edge, dangling his feet in the water, when he saw the little one getting beyond his depth.

He hollered for his grandfather who didn't hear him, and he could see the little red trunks at the bottom of the pool in the four foot depth, so he dived in and grabbed the little guy around the waist and dragged him along toward the steps at the end of the pool.

By that time, the rescuee had caught his breath and was screaming at the top of his lungs, so help was forthcoming. Billy was the hero of the hour—he's a pupil of Frank McGuigan. So when you give your children swimming lessons, the life he saves may not be his own, but someone else's.

One of the new families on Willow Drive is the Mathews, Jim and Frieda, who moved into the Slack house last month. They moved here from Berkeley where they have lived for two years, and before that, they lived in El Paso Texas.

The difference in climate between El Paso and Berkeley was not too pleasant so they are most happy in Lafayette. They have a daughter, Ursula Fanfa, who was just married on August 10—Frieda works at Herrick Memorial Hospital, and Jim is a retired veteran of the Korean War.

While on Willow Drive, Dorothy and Ed Rodman with their three, Jim, Val and Mike, took their two weeks vacation in Idaho. First they visited Dorothy's brother and sister in Homedale, then took a trip thorugh the Challis National Forest where they missed the salmon (Dorothy says that's customary), and then on to the Soldier Lakes.

There they hiked, not in, but up, five miles and there were fish galore just waiting to be caught. The wilds of Idaho are wild and beautiful, and well worth the long trip to get there.

CONVENTION AFTERTHOUGHTS

The Republican convention is gone but not forgotten by those who had a chance to see it. Bob Murphy of Carol Lane was running supplies back and forth to the Telephone Company equipment and was fortunate enough to be in the right place at the right time to hear President Eisenhower's acceptance speech.

Afterwards, Bob jumped in his truck to leave and the gates were obligingly being opened but not for the ex-president of the Lafayette Meadows mprovement Association who had to move to one side while the president and his motor convoy went to the train taking him to Monterey, so Bob had another first-rate look.

Julie and Marion Paulovic of Carol Lane are busy trying to convert her brother and sister-in-law, John and Marge Slezak, from Denver, Colorado, into Californians. It's the first trip here for the Slezaks, and they are in the market for a move.

They have looked over parts of Canada and Idaho, but so far, this area of California looks best to them, and they are most impressed with our hillside residential sections. They 3½ year old daughter Susan, is along and she likes it too.

Valley View Hullabaloo

By DOROTHY PATTERSON, AT 4-4195

The area called Valley View is unquestionably a mecca for those who appreciate lots of children, subsequently their very necessary pets and as consolation for all . . . superb TV reception.

Apparently Fred and Eleanor Van Dorn are going to be leaving our friendly association and I speak for us all when I say that they and their lovely little family will be greatly missed.

Fred has worked hard and diligently for our association and we are grateful, so we sincerely wish him and and Eleanor much Good Luck and Good Health in their new abode . . . and may they experience many happy returns to our valley.

BUZZY BEES

It is just possible that our loss could be your gain, and if you don't believe me, just call Alice Miller at the office of our local Sir-realtors Greer and Pierce for the particulars; and when Alice gives you the particulars, Man, you've been particulared!

Do give her a buzz — and that is a real twist if I ever heard one. Alice is always being teased about "buzzing" the neighborhood because the exhaust on her car sounds much like those "weekend warriors" in their sabrejets that fly slightly overhead.

If you were passing through Valley View some days ago, perhaps you heard sounds like this on the corner of Garden Lane and Laurel Drive, "jabber, jabber, jabber, THERE'S ONE, brrrr."

Now in explaining this sound, I shall have to start thusly: There are those who are known as Bee-Keepers and these are very necessary because through them we are able to serve jars of honey on our table.

Now, in Valley View we elaborated a little on this idea. Florie and Hugh Gallagher decided to become Bee-VACUUMERS which was also very necessary because they needed a chance to eat undisturbedly on their patio table. There is a time and a place for everything but have you ever tried to bring this fact to the attention of a bee?

However, it is just possible that the Gallaghers have created a new trend in bee-life, because by vacuuming the little monsters we will possibly create a cleaner more dust-free type of Apis mellifera (I had to look that up) and perhaps raise the social level in the hives.

I can just hear a father of a bee say to his little son, "Do you HAVE to go around with that girl? Her family is not anti-socially acceptable; they've never been vacuumed, you know."

SOCIAL STINGS

Or perhaps bees will be chosen because "she's lovely. She's a Hoover girl;" or, quite possibly, "Oh we don't want to work with her. She always associates with those bags from Electrolux."

Beeballing, that is called. In any event, a well-aimed vacuum cleaner can end any further discussion of the age old question, "To bee or not to bee?"

Valley View experienced it's own Whodunnit awhile back when the Monheits were away on their vacation at their cabin in Twain Harte. The moon was full, the pool was full and temptation played a great part in the lives of two human beings that could not resist a moonlight swim.

They even disregarded civilization's requirements of acceptable swim wear! One thing about a full moon in solving such cases — it obviates the need of bothering with little things like fingerprints!!!

And, a big box of cake mix to Gavin High for his coverage of the "Joe Smith" faux pas in the recent political convention by the delegate from Nebraska. Gavin used great wisdom in putting a call through to the delegate's wife at home in Nebraska (he was the only reporter on which she allowed herself to vent her fury).

Gavin represents a metropolitan newspaper in San Francisco and the delegate's wife told him that both she and her husband are "teetotalers." Apparently the poor man was just "drunk with courage" . . .

Obviously, Adlai Stevenson (whose former wife is about to publish a book on their life together called "The Egg-head and I") is not the only one in politics who has trouble keeping a wife and hot water separated. Well done, Gav.

Word has reached me that once again the drivers in this area are speeding it up a bit without remembering just how many children there are in this obstacle course. So may I remind you to take it easy and remember, the very pump you save just might be the one in my own little dishwasher!

Acalanes Valley Notes

By DOROTHEA CUMMINGS, AT 3-2973

Among the missing on the trip was Doug Parker who has been spending his summer working for Kaiser Engineers in Oakland. While the rest of his family was away, Doug spent his time staying with friends and at the YMCA.

Earlier in the summer, Denny Parker spent two weeks at the YMCA's Camp Gualala in Northern California, and this year he became a "ragger."

Young Martha also had a separate little vacation—she spent a few days at the Brownie Day Camp located at the end of Springhill Road.

The Links are home again, too, from a trip to Canada. The four of them, Erna and Bill, daughter Patty and son Billy, spent most of their time in Saskatchewan, Canada, where they visited relatives in the little town of Mellville.

And the thing that intrigued them most in this town was the presence of daylight at 2:30 a.m.! They reported that the excess of daylight hours didn't interfere with their sleeping schedule, however.

Making the trip with the Links was Patty's and Billy's grandfather, Adam Link of East Oakland. In Regina, Canada, he experienced the thrill of a lifetime when he saw a friend whom he hadn't seen since they had last met in Germany—when both were eight years old!

On the way to Canada, the Links stopped long enough to tour Yellowstone National Park, Lewis and Clark National Forest and Glacier National Park. They took a trip to Calgary for the annual stampede there and saw a number of Indian villages.

The Links came back along the coast route and, as usual, enjoyed the redwood region.

Recent visitors to the Armstrong Redwood Grove at the Russian River were Anne and Bill Chilcote of Fiora Place, together with their three daughters.

Many families from Acalanes Valley went picnicking in Tilden Park recently when the Lafayette-Orinda Presbyterian Church had an outdoor get-together there.

In charge of the entertainment was Dick Frock who asked Rick Benofsky and his "Acalanes Valley Quadranglers" to do several exhibition squares.

And, when it came to the ladies athletic events at the picnic, Acalanes Valley made an excellent showing. Ann Chilcote and Rose Hawkins tied for first place in the dash, while Betty Lewis finished second.

PROGRESS ON THE new Mt. Diablo Therapy Center being constructed on Golf Links Road, is viewed by Job Superintendent Edmund Dorsey and Miss Charlotte Olsen. Handicapped persons, regardless of race, creed or ability will be eligible to use the facilities.

Therapy Center is Half Completed Say Builders

Construction on the new Mt. Diablo Therapy Center building has passed the halfway mark and is proceeding on schedule according to contractor, Ed Romley, and architect, Harry Nakahara. The new unit located on Golf Links Road opposite the Contra Costa Junior College north of Walnut Creek will double existing facilities for treatment of the physically handicapped.

EDMUND J. Dorsey, construction superintendent, reported the wiring, roofing, and installation of utilities completed. The laminated wooden beams are in place; the cement floor is poured; and the roof is on.

The new center will consist of two buildings, one of which will house the administrative offices with facilities for physical, occupational, and speech therapy.

An adjoining building will be given over to the sheltered workshop where physically handicapped men and women are trained for gainful empoyment.

The four acre site will also provide ample space for outdoor exercise and therapy treatment.

The outdoor exercise areas and inner court between the sheltered workshop and the Physical Therapy unit are being landscaped without cost to the center through the combined efforts of local landscape architect, Franklin Collins, the Diablo Women's Garden Club, and the Bonita Garden Club of Piedmont.

FACILITIES of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center are available to all physically handicapped persons regardless of race, creed, or ability to pay upon a physician's referral.

The Mt. Diablo Therapy Center Building Committee which arranged for acquisition of the new site and supervised plans for the building is headed by Jack Marchant, chairman, and Samuel Bradbard, Mrs. J. R. Lar Rieu, Mrs. H. R. Parker, and James Simonds.

Contractors To Hear 3 Speakers

The mortgage money market and its effect upon the home Building industry will be discussed at a dinner meeting of the General Contractors Association, at 7 p.m., Thursday at El Nido Restaurant, Lafayette.

Three authorities in the mortgage lending business (John Stoffel, assistant vice president, American Trust Company, San Francisco; Richard Donovan, manager, Pleasant Hill Branch Bank of America; and Lloyd King, manager, Walnut Creek Branch Berkeley Savings and Loan Association) will explain the reasons for the present shortage of mortgage funds, according to Parker.

Slides produced by the National Association of Home Builders entitled "Where your Mortgage Money Comes from and How It Reaches You" will be shown.

Demo Group Will Meet

The Central Contra Costa Democratic Club will hold an informal meeting Wednesday at 8 p.m., in the Walnut Creek Methodist Church, 1543 Sunnyvae Avenue.

Speaker will be State Senator George Miller. He will provide sidelights on the Democatic Convention held in Chicago.

College Real Estate Courses To be Outlined

Courses to be offered at the Contra Costa Junior College relating to real estate will be outlined at a breakfast of the Contra Costa Real Estate Board, Monday morning. Bill Tarr is program chairman.

Broker membership on the board has reached one hundred, and there are 370 salesmen, it was reported.

Registrations are being taken for the California Real Estate Association convention to be held in San Francisco from September 30 to August 4. Four volunteers from the local board may attend.

Typing Exams

F. E. Emery, director of personnel, has announced that the Contra Costa County Civil Service Commission will hold a typing examination on September 15.

Applicants of stenographer clerk and typist clerk may file now.

Registration at St. Mary's Will Start Tuesday

Registration for all St. Mary's College students will begin Tuesday at 8:45 a.m. and will continue until 4 p.m. Registration will take place in the Administration building.

Classification examinations will be held for all new students Monday. Morning testing sessions begin at 9 a.m. in Dante Hall.

The afternoon sessions will also be conducted in Dante Hall beginning at 1 p.m.. Counseling for all new students will be available all day in the Administration Building.

All students registering Tuesday may receive counseling service from 9 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. in the Library reading room.

Classes will be in session at 8 a.m. Wednesday, September 12.

Freshman students' orientation, which is planned for Monday evening, will be directed by Jack Garcia, Social Committee chairman.

Sophomore class president Bill Blake of Vallejo and Frank Perry, 1410 Springbrook Road, Walnut Creek, will assist Garcia.

CD Pamphlets

Free phamplets and booklets on Civil Defense will be issued through the County Library System beginning Monday, announced William Ward, director of the County Civil Defense organization.

Appellate Judge Will Speak Here

Justice Bray, a member of the California Appellate Court, will speak at a public meeting commemorating the 169th anniversary of the signing of the U.S. Constitution, next Friday.

The program will begin at 8 p.m., in Acalanes High School, under the sponsorship of 361st Masonic District, including the following posts: Alamo 122, Orinda 704, Acalanes 723, San Ramon 724 and St. John's 725.

The 12th Naval District band from Treasure Island will play several selections.

Nearly Everyone Reads The Sun

2700 in Schools Of Acalanes H.S. District

An all-time high of an estimated 2700 high school pupils started the new school year Wednesday in the three schools of the Acalanes High School District—Miramonte in Orinda, Acalanes in Lafayette and Las Lomas in Walnut Creek.

Students were greeted by an equally record-breaking number of teachers. Certificated personnel within the Acalanes District for 1956-57 will total 134.

Twenty-eight school buses, shared with the high school by the Lafayette and Orinda Elementary Districts, will carry 4500 students daily.

The new school marks the 17th year of operation for the Acalanes High School plant, the sixth year for the Las Lomas plant and the second year for the Miramonte school.

Additional Hours For Registration Offered by Group

As a result of Governor Knight's proclamation of September 6-13 as Registration Week in California, registrars from the League of Women Voters are available to register voters at additional hours during this time, Mrs. James Worley, League voter service chairman, has announced.

League registrars will be at the city halls of Concord and Walnut Creek and at the PX store in Pleasant Hill from 7 to 9 p.m. today and from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. tomorrow.

On Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday they will register both from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m.

GOP Assembly To Hear Baldwin

U. S. Congressman John F. Baldwin will address Central Contra Costa County Republican Assembly members and other Republicans at a meeting in the spacious grounds of the Sherwood Knight home, 1341 Juanita Drive, Walnut Creek, Tuesday at 8 p.m.

Baldwin's constitutents will have the opportunity to talk with him on an informal basis at the meeting.

Preceding the meeting the directors will entertain Congressman and Mrs. Baldwin at an al fresco dinner, with Sherwood Knight, John Nejedly and Frank Pereira masters of the barbecues.

Gertrude Walker, Assembly president; Joan Chandler, second vice-president, and Ruth Knight, director, will have charge of table decorations and Ray Adams will provide spectacular signs for the affair.

Go to Church Sunday

Congregational

On Sunday at the 11 a.m. service of the San Ramon Valley Congregational Church to be held in the Women's Club of Alamo, the Rev. Michel A. Vallon will preach the second of a pattern of sermons beginning with Christianity and mental health. The title is "Our Emotions, Friends or Foes?"

Members and visitors are invited to remain after church for coffee hour. Child care is offered for parents who wish to attend the worship service.

Mrs. Donald Mastick was received into the church fellowship.

There will be a Sunday school promotion. Rev. Vallon and Mr. Charles Huestis, superintendent of the Sunday school will speak to the children and present diplomas.

On September 16, there will be a dinner party at the home of Bill and Lucile Nickerson, Wayne Avenue, Danville.

Ticket chairman is Jack Heck, VE 7-4415. Tickets are being sold by members of the church to their friends and interested persons. The proceeds of the dinner will be offered to the church building fund.

For those who do not wish to swim or dance, there will be a new movie on Africa, shown indoors.

On September 17, there will be a Board of Deacons' meeting at the home of Bill Nickerson.

On September 25, the Church Council will meet at the home of Edythe Pendergast, Danville Estates Drive.

Lutheran

"Power to Become Sons of God" is the sermon theme for Sunday, as chosen by the Rev. Robert W. Varblow, pastor of St. Luke's Lutheran Church, 2491 San Miguel Drive in Walnut Creek.

This sermon is the second in a series of ten on the Common Service. It will be preached at both the 8 and 11 a.m. services of the congregation.

The Sunday School at St. Luke's meets at the 9:30 a.m. hour under the direction of the superintendent, Mr. Richard Mauss.

Sunday at 4 p.m. the United Lutheran Church Women of St. Luke's will sponsor a picnic for the congregation at the Walnut Creek City Park. Mrs. Waneda Courter is in charge of hte arrangements.

Tuesday evening the Sunday School Teachers and Officers will meet at 8 p.m. at the Chapel to reorganize the Sunday School for the coming year.

Friday evening at 8 p.m. the First Confirmation Class will be held at the Chapel. At this first meeting of the class the young people and their parents will meet together to plan the class for the coming year.

Saturday morning at 9 the Work Party will be held to paint the parsonage. Mr. Les Wyman, property committee chairman, is in charge of the painting.

Christian

Sunday services will be held at 11 a.m. at the First Christian Church of Walnut Creek. Minister is E. Franklin Gaige.

Bible school will be at 10 a.m., and a youth meeting at 6:30 p.m. A guest speaker will be Richard Knowles.

Community

Maurice Ellison will direct the Chapel Choir, and Mrs. Patricia McGee at the organ will play selections by Koenig, Rinck and Kornmuller.

Church School for all ages through high school will be held at 9:30 and 11 a.m., with Everett and Ruth Howe as General Superintendents at 9:30 and Rudy and Mary Monosmith at the 11 hour.

Fall registration and orientation of children by their parents will be held Monday and Tuesday evenings, September 10 and 11, also 17 and 18, in the Chapel. These are identical sessions, so that the parents may attend the evening of their choice.

The Board of Christian Education meets Tuesday, 9 p.m. in the Minister's Study.

The Board of Trustees will meet Wednesday, 8 p.m., in the Livingstone Room.

Episcopal

The regular schedule of three morning services will be resumed on Sunday at St. Stephen's Episcopal Church, 12 Via Las Cruces, Orinda, wtih a celebration of Holy Communion at 8 a.m. and services of morning praper at 9:30 and 11 a.m.

Church school will meet during the 9:30 service and the junior choir will assist the congregation with the musical portions of the service. The Rev. Albert Lucas, vicar, will be celebrant at 8 o'clock and will preach the sermon at the morning prayer services.

The junior choir will hold its first rehearsal of the year tomorrow at 10 a.m. in the undercroft.

On Wednesday, the regular midweek celebration of Holy Communion will be held at 10 a.m. Nursery care for pre-school children is provided in the basement of the vicarage during this service and during the 11 o'clock service Sunday.

Presbyterian

"The Meaning of Church Membership" will be the sermon topic of the Rev. James M. Crothers Sunday at St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at both the 9:30 and 11 a.m. services.

This will also be Promotion Sunday for the Sunday school classes.

Beginning this Sunday, the Intermediate Westminster Fellowship will meet again on Sunday evenings at 7 instead of Wednesdays.

The other two Westminster Fellowship groups, High School and Post High will meet at 7. The Post-High will meet at 424 Derby Court, and the other two groups will meet at the church.

Registration for all new and old Sunday school children will be Wednesday from 2 to 4 p.m. and from 7 to 9 p.m. Several adult courses will be offered for registration at this time.

Christian Science

The vital importance of honoring God in thought and in deed will be brought out at services this Sunday at Churches of Christ, Scientist, at 1347 Locust Street, Walnut Creek, and 22 Orinda Highway, Orinda.

Keynoting the Lesson-Sermon on "Substance" is the Golden Text from Proverbs (22:1):

"A good name is rather to be chosen than great riches, and loving rather than silver and gold."

The importance of spiritual values will be emphasized in readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy (239:5).

Scriptural selections to be read include the following (Proverbs 3:9): "Honour the Lord with thy substance, and with the first fruits of thine increase."

Presbyterian

Morning services will be held at 9 and 10:30 a.m. at the Walnut Creek Presbyterian Church, with the Reverend James G. Upshaw in the pulpit after his vacation.

He will also give evening services at 7:30 p.m. following the fellowship period.

There will be baptism of individuals in the morning services. At the evening service there will be reception of new members.

Don Moomaw, former All American football player will be present at the church fellowship hall on Saturday as a special feature of the annual "Big Kick-off."

Baptist

"Signs of the Times" will be the message at the morning worship service Sunday at the First Baptist Church, 132 Gregory Lane, Pleasant Hill, Rev. J. Howard Stitt, pastor.

Sunday school classes for all ages begin at 9:45 a.m. The class for high-chool-age young people, is currently studying the growth of the church under opposition. The teacher of this class is Maurice Miller.

At the Sunday evening service, 7:30, the sermon by the pastor will be "To the Work."

Prayer meeting and Bible study on Wednesday, 7:30 p.m., is a highly important time of mid-week spiritual emphasis.

Lutheran

The Rev. Alwin L. Rubin, pastor of Trinity Lutheran Church of Walnut Creek, will speak on the topic, "Conquering Worry" at both the 8:15 and 11 a.m. services.

Church School and the Bible Class will be conducted at 9:30.

Our Church Picnic will be held at Castle Rock Park beginning at 1:00 p.m. Sunday afternoon.

All members of the congregation and friends are invited. The picnic is being sponsored by the Ladies Guild, Mrs. Peggy Pubanz, president.

Baptist

The title of the 11 a.m. Sunday morning message by Pastor A. R. Rutledge of the First Baptist Church of Lafayette will be "Christ Is Preached."

Sunday school convenes at 10 a.m.

Evening services begin at 7:30 p.m.

Services are held at Dick Mathis' Stationery Store, 969 Moraga Road, Lafayette. Ample parking is available at the rear of the store.

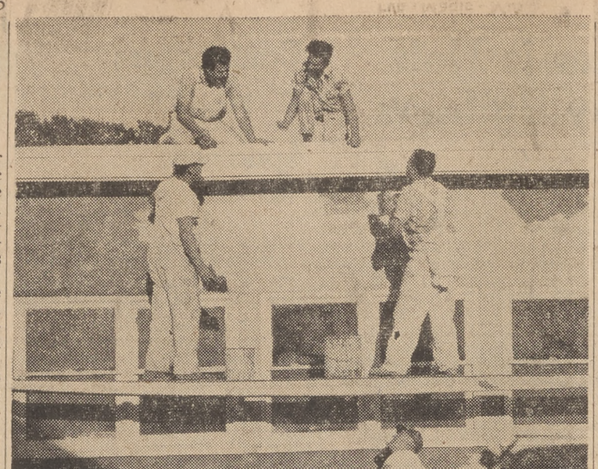

Nursery care for the little ones will be provided for all those desiring it.

Not Guilty Plea Made by Driver

Effa Lampinen, 29, of Concord, pleaded not guilty to being drunk in and about a car, after her arrest by sheriff's deputies August 29 on Mt. Diablo Boulevard.

Her car was stopped by Deputy Sheriff John Snyder, after another driver told him that her car had been erratic while traveling on the boulevard. Her husband, officers reported, said that the car had a dent on it which had not been there when he gave the keys earlier in the day.

Proceedings will be in Judge Garaventa's court in Concord.

CHURCH OF CHRIST on Gregory Lane is getting a complete face lifting with men of the church working on weekends and days off. Landscaping of the property was recently completed. At work painting are J. M. Monroe, Huey Norried, top, Jack Norried and Don Hines, second row, and Leo Stow, on ground. —Sun photo by Elizabeth vander mark

De Molay Group To Install Phelps

James Phelps of Lafayette will be installed as master councillor of the Las Trampas Chapter of the Order of De Molay during a special ceremony in the Walnut Creek Masonic Temple tomorrow evening at 8 p.m.

Phelps, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Phelps of 961 Reliez Station Road holds the highly coveted De Molay award, the Chevalier Degree. This was presented to him by the order in 1954. At present, Phelps, a graduate of Acalanes High School, is attending Contra Costa Junior College.

Other officers to be installed are:

Norman Farquhar, senior councilor; William Long, junior councilor; Allen Latham, scribe; William Cohune, treasurer; David Gray, senior deacon; James Dale, junior deacon; Daniel Rose senior steward.

Martin Fernandez, junior steward; James Gentry, chaplain; William Faulkner, sentitnel; Daniel Noecker, standard bearer; Gordon Stauffer, almoner; John Cadwell, marshal; Thomas Hazlett, orator, and Donald Connelly, Larry Meadows, Donald Sharp, Dan Dean Hawlsley Robert Gentry, Buck Lawson and Dennis Mason, preceptors.

The installation ceremony will be open to the public and will be followed by an informal dance.

Sunday School Teachers Have Special Course

A three-week training course will begin September 17 for prospective Sunday School teachers of young children, Drummond J. McCunn, chairman of the Council of Church Board of Christian Education, announced.

The course is open to any adult, whether or not one's home church is a member of the Council. A series of three lectures by experts in the given subject will prepare prospective or experienced Sunday School teachers and have them ready to serve on Rally Day, October 8.

Working with Dr. McCunn is a Board of teachers and superintendents representing some fifteen churches in central Contra Costa County.

Dr. Anita Val Brothers, M.D., a psychiatrist in private practice in Berkeley, will lecture September 17, on "Understanding the Child". Dr. Brothers is also a staff member in five hospitals in the East Bay.

Dr. George A. Warmer, D.D. will lecture September 24. Dr. Warmer is minister of the First Methodist Church of Oakland. Dr. Warmer will speak on "Methods".

Paul J. Baird, Field Director of the Northern California Presbyterian Board of Christian Education, will give the third lecture of the series on October 1, on "The Curriculum". Mr. Baird has held his present post for five years.

Following upon the lectures each Monday evening there will be bour workshops for closer study of actual child-teacher relationships, covering the pre-school, kindergarten, primary, and junior children ages 3 to 6 years.

Paris to Fete Lafayette in '57

A comprehensive schedule of special events in France commemorating the 200th anniversary of the birth of the Marquis de LaFayette, the French general who helped America win her fight for independence, will be released through the Worden Travel Services of Orinda and Walnut Creek, according to owner Bill Worden.

The anniversary year, stated Worden, wil be officially opened on February 6, 1957, with a gala commemoration of the signing of the Treaty Alliance of 1778 between the U.S.A. and France.

Do You Speed in Your Own Area?

Are you guilty of driving carelessly, recklessly or too fast in your own neighborhood?

We realize that this question may seem presumptuous — but it really isn't.

Until recently we've always assumed that most motorists, however careless they may otherwise be, become more conscious of safety in their own neighborhoods and generally "slow down" as they near home.

After all, it seems logical that the thought of one's own children and of neighbors' children should act as a deterrent to any speed-demon impulses in us.

But imagine our surprise — and embarrassment — when we learned that this apparently isn't true at all.

Instead, here is the picture that unfolded:

Recently, the people in a certain neighborhood of one of our Central Contra Costa County communities were indignant over speeding in their residential streets. "Using a residential street as a super-highway" was the description of the situation by many of the residents.

Trucks, commuters from other areas, and highway construction were blamed for the dangerous situation.

The Sun arranged a meeting with law-enforcement officials and neighborhood leaders. The result was a concentrated checkup by the California Highway Patrol.

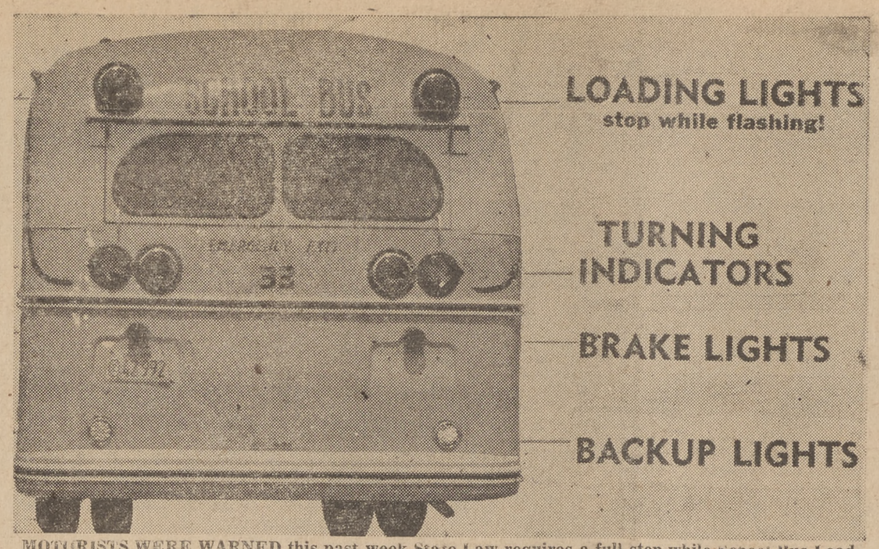

Over a 24-hour period the Highway Patrol issued citations for 18 "moving" traffic violations — that is, violations by traffic in motion. Speeding, ignoring pedestrian right-of-way and driving on the wrong side of the street were among the offenses listed.

Of these 18 citations, 17 were issued to residents of the neighborhood!

This neighborhood is a typical residential neighborhood in Central Contra Costa County. So the case there is likely to be the case elsewhere.

In all likelihood, then, the speeding and other hazardous driving practices in your neighborhood aren't mainly by delivery trucks or by "the other driver." Chances are it's by you.

All of which is enough to make us pause, take stock and adjust our actions accordingly.

MOTORISTS WERE WARNED this past week State Law requires a full stop while School Bus Loading lights are flashing and the motorist to remain stopped until turned off. Loading lights are usually placed at the top of the school bus. Motorists are not required to stop while turning indicators are flashing or brake lights are on. The lower lights are indications that the bus is either turning or slowing down for a stop. — Sun photo by Harold Hass

H.S. District Teachers Go to School Early

Acalanes High School District Superintendent Neil M. Parsons welcomed the faculties of Los Lomas, Acalanes and Miramonte High Schools "back to school" August 30 at the first district faculty meeting of the 1956-57 school year.

Parsons outlined the educational philosophy of the district and emphasized the concept that "the school plants, the administration and everything that is a part of the Acalanes District has been put here to do the one important job of facilitating the work of the teacher in teaching the individual student."

The superintendent introduced Miss Lily Lahti, district curriculum coordinator, who described advances during the past year in construction of a district course of study and commented on areas of development set for the future.

Dr. J. Paul Leonard, president of San Francisco State College, spoke on "What's Exciting About Teaching." Dr. Leonard noted exploration of educators into new techniques in education, especially television, and outlined briefly the problems confronting education growth-wise.

New teachers to the district took a bus tour of the district and held a separate day of orientation meetings August 29.

Last Friday and last Tuesday Acalanes District instructors met with their individual school faculties and in their separate areas of instruction for planning and discussion.

Civil Defense Class Planned; Open to Public

A 42-hour course to train monitors for the Radiological Defense Service of the Contra Costa County Office of Civil Defense and Disaster will begin September 17 at 7:30 p.m., in Pleasant Hill Intermediate School, 265 Boyd Road, Pleasant Hill.

The class will meet one night a week, three hours a night, and the course will be completed by Christmas.

It is open to both men and women, 18 years of age or older, and no special educational background is required.

The course is given in cooperation with the Mt. Diablo Adult Education program and the County CD Office. Dr. Thomas Hayes of the Donner Radiation Laboratory at University of California will be the instructor.

The course includes techniques of monitoring persons, areas, and objects with Geiger Counters and Ion Chambers, evaluating the readings in terms of safety, determining whether decontamination is necessary, methods of decontaminating people and equipment, and the proper use of short-wave radio and handie-talkies.

This is the only course in radiological monitoring to be given this year. Residents of the entire central part of the county are urged to take advantage of this opportunity to be trained in radiological services.

Persons interested in taking this course may contact the County CD Office at either Martinez 2888 or YEllowstone 5-5042 and leave his name in advance of the course.

Letters to The Editor

DOLLAR RANCH ROUNDUP

Dear Editor:

This is to express the appeciation of the committee of 450 persons for the fine coverage you gave the Roundup of Republicans at the Stanley Dollar Ranch, both the week before and the week following the party.

IN MANY RESPECTS we feel this was probably the greatest party in the history of Contra Costa County, and our important out-of-state guests were almost lyrical in their praise of the Dollar home and ranch decorations, physical arrangements, and particulraly the smooth handling of traffic in which we had fine cooperation from 12 deputy sheriffs from Harry Brown's office, two constables and four state highway patrolmen.

We will never know accurately how many attended, but from our ticket count and best estimates, no figures ran less than 4000, and one of the state highway patrolmen estimated 6000.

WE HAD PLEDGED our entire net proceeds to the National Committee to help reelect the Eisenhower Administration and have already turned over $7000 for this purpose.

When all expenses and ticket receipts are in, we believe our total net will be a little over $8000, which still does not meet our national quota but is by far the largest sum ever contributed by Contra Costa County toward a national campaign.

Thanks again for your good coverage, even though I still feel that someone in your office seriously underestimated the advance news value of this affair.

LINDSEY SPIGHT

REAL SPONSORS

Dear Editor:

It has been brought to my attention that your newspaper printed an article recently concerning the Johann Burmann family which arirved in Lafayette recently from Europe. This is a displaced persons family.

As I understand your article, it stated that I had sponsored this family and was providing housing for them in our home. That is not correct.

Our Savior's Lutheran Church of Lafayette sponsored this family and made arrangements for housing and work. My name appeared on the official papers as president of the congregation.

Mrs. Ralph Saxton of Happy Valley was the person in charge of making arrangements for the arrival of the family. Children of the Daily Vacation Bible School contributed foodstuffs and members and friends of the church furnished the house for the family.

RE: CIVIC AFFAIRS

Dear Editor:

Criticism is supposed to be the art of judging with knowledge and propriety. Naturally, when these two ingredients are lacking, a writer ends his letter with "Name Withheld on Request."

A recent offering of this sort referred to Civic Affairs by name, and indicates that the writer thereof wants everybody to be upset because Civic Affairs sometimes changes its mind or has the audacity to think about changing its mind.

Since I have no knowledge of what that writer is up to, I cannot offer a critique of his ditty, but perhaps I can imagine the kind of Civic Affairs meeting that he would appreciate:

ALL 25 representatives and several dozen writers have assembled (this part I would appreciate, too). Each has brought the peeves and problems of his neighborhood, club or group.

My job in the past was mainly to keep two people from speaking at once, but now, in addition to the secretary, I have several valuable assistants up front.

On my right is the Keeper of Old Motions. Whenever a new motion is made, the KOOM whisks through his files to find whether a similar motion was acted upon last month, or last year, or whenever.

THE KOOM is assisted by the very voluble Deplorer of New Evidence. He knows that even Congress and the Supreme Court reopen hearings and occasionally reverse themselves, but never mind, we are going to be the Unchangeables.

Over on my left is dual protection by the Hammer and the Scrammer against the sort of thing that happened recently when a lone member caught a few ears after a regular meeting had adjourned, and ventured that maybe the hospital ought to be invited back. In fact, would the ditty writer say it's all right or all wrong for the VA to change its mind about locating in Orinda?

Well, to return to real Civic Affairs meetings, I feel that they have a good chance to be interesting, worthwhile and as reasonable — and changeable — as a bunch of unsquelched humans facing community growth together.

WILLIAM H. THURSTON,
Chairman, Civic Affairs Committee.

What They Say . .

Huh? School Bells Again?

School bells began ringing this week, inviting — ordering — young scholars to visit the halls of knowledge for the next nine months. Their reverberations were felt throughout the area.

For they signified an end of an era. Free time and frolic were at an end for the students. But for some of their parents, they had just begun.

To other parents, the clanging bells meant that vacations were at an end, and the family would have to wait until next summer before enjoying a journey or a camp site as a unit.

THE BELLS CALLED "back to work" to some locals, as teachers and administrators collected their briefcases and books and made for their classes and offices.

To nearly everyone, "Back to school" meant an alteration in the scheme of things. Just what effect it had on various local individuals was what your Roving Reporter tried to discover.

HERE'S WHAT he found:

Mrs. John T. MacKay, 855 Paradise Court, Lafayette, reported that her son was "just about ready to go back to the Stanley School to see his old chums."

The beginning of school ended a summer of golfing and baseball for him, she admitted, but added that "If he's ready to go, I'm ready to send him."

Although Mrs. Edward Nemer, 3361 Sweet Drive, Lafayette, was "delighted" by the reopening of school, her daughter, Farryl, 10, "isn't too happy about it."

ONE OF FARRYL'S big summertime activities was having young friends over to swim in the Nemer pool. Many of these children, Mrs. Nemer said, are from Oakland and other areas where school doesn't open until next week.

"I think the local kids are kind of jealous," she stated.

It isn't only the youngsters who flinched at the thought of books and classrooms, reported Larry B. Gross, 36 Crest View Drive, Orinda.

"Mrs. Gross," he disclosed, "teaches school in Oakland, and she's not too happy about going back to the grind."

THE GROSS' SPENT their vacation in Los Angeles, and might have a long wait before they can go back.

Mrs. W. W. Cauwenbergh, of 57 California Avenue, Orinda, doesn't have any children in school now, but she can remember the excitement the first day of school caused when her three daughters attended.

"They were all pretty anxious to get back to school," Mrs. Cauwenbergh reported.

Her daughters went to school in Berkeley. With those days behind them, two are married and the third awaits her nuptial date next Friday.

"I think I'll have to wait a few days to see what my two girls think about school," said Mrs. Donald Courtney of 149 Katherine Drive, Pleasant Hill.

"Diane is 7 years old, and looks forward to it, but Dawne Denise is starting kindergarten, and she is withholding her opinion for a while," she continued.

The two girls, enrolled at Diablo Vista School, both enjoy other kids, and will get along, she added.

MRS. SHELDON Ongman of 1977 Newell Avenue, Walnut Creek, said that her son, Bill O'Brien, looks forward to returning to Parkmead Upper to get back into baseball and football.

"He can hardly wait," she commented. The 13 year-old also likes math.

It's been "school, school, school!" in the family conversation at the home of Mrs. Lawrence Therien, 1649 Wendy Drive, Pleasant Hill, she admitted.

"Our son, Nate, 5½, will begin kindergarten this fall, and he's very excited. We've tried not to make too big a thing of it, though, so that he won't get too keyed up."

"ONE OF OUR neighbors, Mrs. Shirley Johnson, also has a beginning youngster, Tom, and we both were wondering if we should take them to and from school.

"But it looks like that just isn't done anymore. A notice from the school, Fair Oaks, said to teach Nate his address and telephone number, and of course his name, but he'll have a tag just in case!"

Two year-old Diane, youngest member of the Therien family, will have to learn to play without her brother from now on, the mother observed.

MRS. DAVID Keller of 1576 First Avenue, Walnut Creek, also has a beginnnig student, but Barbara, age 18, is beginning Contra Costa Junior College.

"Barbara wants to further her education and take part in activities. We have Raymond, age 8, too, and he starts the third grade at Pleasant Hill Elementary.

"He's mechanical like his father, and also likes to read a lot," Mrs. Keller related.

Under The Sun

By Herman Silverman

It could happen — let's prepare!

President Eisenhower's proclamation of next week as National Civil Defense Week focuses attention on civil defense needs in our own community.

No one likes to think of atomic attacks on America by a ruthless enemy, about cities blasted into roaring infernos, or about millions of evacuated people streaming into the rural countryside.

Because it isn't the kind of thing we like to think about, many of us refuse to think about it. "It isn't possible." Or, if it is possible, "We can't hope to survive." This is the kind of reasoning that spells defeat, even before attack.

You wouldn't stand by while your home was burning. If you could save even half of it, you'd work to save half. We can't stand by in our community today. The threat of enemy attack is real and there is something we can do about it.

What can we do?

We can plan now, prepare now to work together for our common survival. The organization for that planning is Civil defense.

The enemy has nuclear weapons and the means to throw them against America. When he is ready to attack, he won't wait. Why should we? Let's get ready.

Our first job is to learn how to take care of ourselves and our families in any emergency. Civil defense can help us with that.

Shelter or evacuation?

Our second job is to be ready to meet the threat of radioactive fallout, either by taking shelter or evacuating. Again civil defense can show us how to prepare.

Another task is to prepare to care for the people evacuated from target cities — if, by chance, we do not also have to evacuate. However, we are in an evacuation area.

We'll also have to be ready to help in the attacked cities — to save lives and salvage as much of America's resources as possible. Our help will be vitally necessary to the nation's survival.

Some of us should be trained as rescue crews, some as fire fighters, others as first aid teams, others as auxiliary policemen, emergency vehicle crews. Civil defense is ready to help us get this training now. It's double-barreled training, too. It can be mighty important to taking care of our families and property.

Battlefield is everywhere

These facts cannot be denied: We're on the potential battle fronts, right along with target cities. The enemy can attack our nation, hard and horribly. We can survive, recover, fight back to win — if we are prepared. Civil defense is that preparedness.

It is up to us as individuals, and to the community as a whole, to see that we have a civil defense organization strong enough to insure our survival.

A demonstration of the Ancient art of archery highlighted a recent special summer program presented by Lafayette Boy Scout Troop 204.

The coloful "Diablo Bowmen" of Martinez demonstrated their bow-and-arrow prowess with a series of trick shots, and Joe Maltby, a recent arrival from the East, showed the power of the bow and safety measures that should be taken with the dangerous weapon.

The program was supervised by Bob McConaughy Troop 204 chairman, and Chick Gandel.

State Launches Youth Job Drive

Prominent on a State Assembly sub-committee to consider a program to provide vacation jobs for boys and girls in the 14 to 16 age group is Lafayette Assemblyman Donald D. Doyle.

Doyle and the other members of the committe engaged in a working conference last week in Los Angeles as a follow-up to a recently proposed bill for such a program.

The bill, proposed by Assemblyman Byron W. Rumford of Berkeley, calls for institution of the project as public policy.

Assemblyman William A. Munnell, chairman of the Assembly Interim Committee on Finance and Insurance, said his committee has asked 90 state, county, city and civic agencies throughout the state to outline their ideas on how the program should be operated.

"How old am I?"

—asks Mrs. Edmund Dominguez
197 Millar Avenue, San Jose, California

She's mother of five fine boys yet she looks young enough to be their sister. And (lucky boys) she feels young enough to be their sister!

Why do so many mothers look and feel so much younger these days? One big reason is modern household appliances—they free women from chores that used to rob them of their youth and beauty.

Mrs. Dominguez, who's 33 years old, leaves much of her hard work to labor-saving appliances. How about you?

Here's the beauty of it: With gas and electricity so cheap in California, you can run a houseful of appliances all day for about half the cost of a bottle of liquid makeup.

Suburbia Scribblings

By MARIE MONAHAN

A stony stare caused a real nightmare

FORGET SOMETHING? When you were on vacation this year? In all probability, you thought you came home with everything. But some ONE thing is usually missing. A favorite pipe on a faraway chair, a couple of library books, or your old fishing cap airing out on an upstream bush . . . maybe a pair of sheer hose draped outside a motel windowsill for a quick dry, or Junior's $5 Daisy Rifle borrowed by the little boy who camped next to you. It happens every time!

Checking out at "Berkeley-Tuolumne" a week ago, we peeked under beds, in trees, around the laundry tubs, under other guests, anticipating ahead the loss we usually discover at home. But this time, after a clean sweep and bulging baggage, we gave ourselves a golr star for not having missed a thing!

TWO MILES DOWN THE ROAD something started haunting us, tugging at our memory, nagging, nagging, nagging, the entire drive home. That night we dreamed, something we rarely do, but this was like a nightmare, unless you're used to counting fish instead of sheep, and we aren't! A tremendous sea of staring, glassy-eyed fish floated around us all night long!

The next morning, bright and too early, our eldest son dove into bed . . . "C'mon, Mommy! Get up . . . You promised to cook my trout!" (TROUT!!!!)

Then came the dawning! We couldn't have left behind a more prized object, our son's trout-catch of the trip, still lying stiff and stony-eyed, sandwiched in between two paper plates marked Monahan in the camp freezer, which is what you do with your fish at Tuolumne unless you're up to cooking them, which we were not!

We only hope somebody smacked their lips over it for breakfast up there! As for us, we pacified our prize-winning fisherman and the rest of the family with a quick trip to Spenger's for a trout brunch!

ORINDA'S DOROTHY AND MEL NICKERSON, directors of the Oakland Tuolumne, were host and hostess to a record crowd this year, w/many campguests from this area . . . Enjoying the easy life from Orinda were the Carl Meurks, Richard Copenhagens, Doug and Dotty Williams and their family, Don and Marian Hutchinson as well as Jim and Marguerite Gonot, Bud and Doris Leiber, Bud and Wishy Sage and their foursome.

A dish of prunes for kitchen-staff croons

Family-style meals in the dining lodge were partaken by the Jim Shierrys, Roy and Marge Elko, Jack and Myrtle Kitchen, Walter Scammells, Stan Walgrens (he's Acalanes principal), Cay and Bob Brackett and their crew, the Milt Johnsons, R. D. Emerys, A. C. Webers and T. V. Wilkersons, all of Lafayette.

If you're used to candle light and quiet, it doesn't take long to master the "please pass and pitch in" method of meals here, intercepted by the guests breaking into song or close harmony from the kitchen staff . . . Fun-time and good food here for the SUN'S Herman Silvermans, Terry Ring (of the W.C. Rec. Dept.) and W.C. Doctors Ed Moore and Joseph Lifschultz and their families, the latter who just opened an office in psychiatry in Orinda.

AT BERKELEY TUOLUMNE, directed by amiable Bill Rhodes, the Phil Champions there to close the season w/their three daughters, Barbara, Jane, and Gail who resumes her studies at Cal Aggies next week.

Also here at the tag end of the season, Milton and Helen Vallens w/sons Ricky and John, Betsy Vail and her children, the Irving Fines of Pleasant Hill, while on the guest book during mid-summer were the junior W. D. Wolfes and the John Hansens of Lafayette, the H. S. Beasleys, Ralph Schneiders, junior R. W. Fishers, Bruce Rosenblatts, and William Harshas of Orinda, among those enjoying the camaraderie of camp life.

Tahoe-trekkers toward the end of summer were the Hal Oltmanns, Art Schwatkas, Henry Soubielles. Ditto Bill and Melba Bray of Berkeley Ave., who christened their 16-ft. Inboard Runabout (built by Bill in his Orinda garage the past year), at the lake during a stay at Globin's Beach, Al Tahoe . . . The Brays water-skiied much of the day, relaxed w/bouts of bridge during the eve.

HOME FROM A MONTH IN NEW ENGLAND, the Bill Sergeants of Bear Creek Road, who visited family and old friends around Barrington, Narragansett, Nantucket, w/some exciting tuna-fishing from Pt. Judas where they had the thrill of harpooning, (but not harming) a 500-lb. turtle that gave them a slight tossing around before they let it go back to sunning its shell!

The Sergeants flew to N.Y. from S.F. in eight hours on the new DC 7 accompanied by dghtr. Deb who did her Manhattan sightseeing impatiently from a cab, anxious to hurry off to her playmates in little old R.I.!

DOMICILE DATA . . . Estelle and Joe Miller, who rated a five-week vacation, spent part of it at eather River, rest of while ranching in Nevada . . . The Ed Readys of Don Gabriel, whose home burned recently, are currently apartment-dwellers watching construction of their new house rapidly going up in the same spot . . . A baby daughter, second girl, for the Fred Nielsens of Donna Maria Way.

They were hep with the hula

MOVING TO WESTCHESTER, N.Y. the Jerry Appels of Longridge, on a business transfer w:Jerry leaving Sunday, Millie and daughter Nancy to follow . . . New bachelors in our midst, Fred Riedle, Doug and Don Weeks, new occupants of the house that James (Denning) built over on Longridge above Oak Springs Pool.

BAREFOOT GUESTS wearing muumuus, sarongs, loud shirts and cocoa straws helped to make an authentic evening of the Hawaiian Luau recently tossed by Norman and Betty Mann of Orinda together w/Bill and Jean White of Lafayette . . . Dancing to island music, Phil and Barbara Oyer, the Mike Dugeners, Jim Dennings, Art and Ruth Peterson and their next-door-neighbors Cliff and Lee Peterson of Orinda . . . Lafayette-Luauers were Bill and Ginny Rei, the Frank Linds, Sally Roberts, and WCers Woody Gilmores, John and Joan Purvis, all treated to a professional hula by Pearl Frick and Jim Grimmie.

Marilyn and Bill Kauffman dropping in for a while, busy w/ nursery plans for their first arrival due in October, and Marilyn beaming over the lovely "loot" she received at the summer shower given her by Ruth Riddell and Molly Gravelle.

A POSTCARD FROM ALDER BRANCH . . . "Kiddy Karnival Day at Pied. Community Center is not far away . . . So the 15th of Sept. is a date to be kept! The fire engine's due, the merry-go-round too, there'll be games and prizes, for tots of all sizes The clown Jolly Jack, will put on his act! Free balloons and colored cartoons! There's more to advise you, but we'd like to surprise you, so come join the ranks, receive Alder's Thanks!"

For tickets for your tots, call Mesdames E Wiser, P. Mouser, G. Pixley, R. Brorsen, Joseph Sweet, George Krusi, but you'll have to look up the numbers yourself! We're in a hurry! 30!

Technical committees for the Curtain Callers' production of "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay" will meet at the home of Mrs. Stuart Henderson, 32 Loma Vista, Orinda at 7 o'clock Thursday evening.

Incoming Miramonte freshmen and all others interested in working on these committees are invited to come.

Committee heads for the production which will be given early in October are:

Beck Harris, stage maanger; Judy Myer and Jean Bodfish, costumes; Ellie Hilmer, sets; Chris Romine, make-up; Joan Haefele and Heida Devin, publicity; Gail Hutton, program; Joan Corelis, tickets; Sue Flint and Gail Hutton, prompters.

Lions to Hear Talk on Transit For 2 Counties

Robert E. Nisbet, deputy city attorney of Oakland, will speak on "The Proposed Alameda - Contra Costa Transit District" at the next regular meeting of the Orinda Lions Club at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Casa Orinda, Lions President Jim Hull announces.

Hull reminds all Lions in the district that the Orinda Lions Club annual barbecue will be held Saturday, September 15, at his home at 20 Crest Drive, Hidden Valley, Lafayette.

Swimming, good food and general fun and sociability are on the agenda, he states. Tickets, at $3.50 per person, may be obtained by contacting Past President Joe Navone at CL 4-2844.

Chronicle Names Local Executive

Edwin H. Roberts, 151 Canon Drive, Orinda, has been appointed circulation director of the San Francisco Chronicle, Publisher Charles Thieriot recently announced.

Roberts, who has been East Bay circulation manager of the Chronicle, succeeds F. M. Thieriot, who was lost at sea aboard the liner Andrea Doria.

Born in Mackay, Idaho, Roberts rose to the post of assistant city circulation manager for the Portland Oregonian after his graduation from Portland University.

In 1946 he went to the Denver Post as city circulation manager, becoming successively assistant circulation director, assistant business manager and circulation director.

Last year he became a Chronicle dealer in San Mateo. He was appointed East Bay circulation manager on February 1 this year.

Local Demos to Meet Candidates

State Senator Richard Richards and other well-known Democratic candidates will be the honorees at a champagne cocktail party Sunday, September 16, at the Carroll Ranch between 5 and 8 p.m., given by the Democratic Women of Orinda.

With President Mrs. Grace Hanks extending an open invitation to everyone interested in meeting the candidates, named on the prospective guest list, besides Richards, are:

Dr. Bob Quinney, congressional candidate; George Miller Jr., State Senate incumbent; S. C. Masterson, incumbent assemblyman from the 11th District; and Russeill Koch of the 10th Assembly District.

Mrs. Shirley Weber, general chairman of the fund-raising affair, announces that tickets are available through all club members. They may also be obtained, according to Mrs. Weber, by phoning Mrs. Connie Benney, CL 4-4085, or Mrs. Jo Glascock, CL 4-3044.

Dolls, dolls' wardrobes and Christmas decorations, all donated by club members, will be on sale at the gala event.

2 Groups Now Full at Orinda

The Orinda Cooperative Nursery School announces that both nursery school groups—the kindergarten group and the 2½ to 3½-year-old group—are now filled to capacity.

However, the school asks that parents wishing to place their children on waiting lists, notify Mrs. Charles Lohse, membership chairman of the Tuesday-Thursday group, or Mrs. Robert Brorsen, membership chairmen of the Monday-Wednesday-Friday group.

Mrs. William A. Patterson acts as director of the nursery school again this year, assisted by her experienced staff of teachers, Mrs. R. H. Laney, Mrs. H. E. Harris and Mrs. Peter Veitch.

Elected officers of the Orinda Nursery School Association are:

Mrs. Ned De Laveaga, president; Mrs. E. L. Smith, vice-president; Mrs. H. H. Smith, secretary; Mrs. I. A. Moreskine, Monday - Wednesday - Friday treasurer; Mrs. C. O. Ford Tuesday-Thursday treasurer; Mrs. T. G. Cullen, maintenance; Mrs. Russell Usinger, purchasing; Mrs. F. A. Watson Jr., publicity, and Mesdames Dwight Skaggs, David Brunson and Howard Hoyt, representatives.

GLOVES ACCENTED

Cotton gloves take on fall glamour through the addition of lavish trims, such as embroidery or beading.

Cal Campus Admits Orinda Student

Robert G. Farris, 31 Broadview Terrace, Orinda, has been admitted as a student on the University of California campus at Davis for the fall semester, Registrar Howard B. Shontz announced.

He plans to enter as a freshman majoring in food technology in the College of Agriculture at Davis.

Orinda Children Wear School Tags

EVERY PUPIL in the kindergarten and first grade in each elementary school in Orinda has been given a tag to keep tied to his or her clothing, for the first few days of school. Each tag has the bus number and the name, address and school of each pupil.

This makes it easier for the bus driver to let the children off at the correct bus stop, as well as to identify lost children, Sheaff said.

CAR INSURANCE

Ninety per cent of car owners in the United States today carry public liability insurance, according to the National Automobile Club.

Orinda JayCees Will Hold 2nd Meeting Tuesday

The second organizational meeting of the newly formed Orinda Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held at the Casa Orinda at 8 p.m. Tuesday.

The program includes a description of the Orinda Library construction project and a talk on the Jaycee movement by National Director Fred Erick A. Sanders of Walnut Creek.

The report of the constitution and By-laws Committee which has been working under the chairmanship of Robert Boyles and Eric Nielson, will also be discussed.

The Jaycees invite all young men in the area between 25 and 36 to join the new organization. Interested young men are urged to come to this meeting and participate in the founding of this chapter.

Rotary Learns Auto Dangers, Safety Measures

Members of the Orinda Rotary learned "What Happens to Your Car When in Motion" at their noon luncheon meeting August 29 at the Willow Inn.

That was the information given by guest speaker John H. Brooks, safety director of the San Francisco-Oakland division of the Yellow Cab Company, as he addressed the club.

A long-time auto safety worker and instructor, Brooks supplemented his advise on car safety with diagrams and vivid descriptions of experiences he has encountered in his work.

Emphasizing that the faster a car goes the longer it takes to stop, the speaker blamed a majority of accidents on speeding and following cars too closely.

He also advised Rotarians to "keep out of the middle lane on highways," stressing the danger encountered when whizzing past oncoming cars, separated only by a nine-inch white line.

Rotary program chairman for the day was Joe Duffell.

HARD RIDING

If your car seems to ride or drive irregularly, attention to one or more of the following service points may be needed, says the California State Automobile Association: Front wheel shock absorbers; caster, camber and toe-in; steering linkage; universal joints.

Cal Aggie Greeter Is Local Student

Perry Laird, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. Laird, 39 Claremont Drive, Orinda, will be one of the 1956 Cal Aggie Greeters next week when the fall's new students arrive on the Davis campus of the University of California.

The greeter group will welcome new students at the railroad and bus stations, take them to their residence halls, and help them get acquainted with the campus.

Laird is a sophomore majoring in landscape management.

Lafayette PTA To Fete Teachers At First Meeting

A reception honoring the teachers of the Lafayette Elementary School will be the dominant feature of the first meeting of the year for the Lafayette School Parent-Teachers Association.

The meeting will be held next Thursday evening at 8 p.m. in the school auditorium.

As a special feature of the evening there will be a display of more than 700 new books purchased this summer for the school library.

The new audio-visual equipment of the school will also be shown and some of the newest type of projectors and transcription players will be demonstrated.

Martin Tucker, principal, and Ted Collins, assistant principal, will be in charge of this part of the program.

A two-act skit inviting parents to join the PTA unit will be presented during the program. Mrs. John Myers, membership chairman, will be in charge.

Room mothers for the year will also be introduced at this meeting. Those serving in this capacity include Mesdames:

Robert Stratton, Owen Haskell, Paul Lanferman, Dirks Foster, Paul Kalff, Harry Sonntag, Fred Stilling, John Helm, Alan Laird, Mervin Bradley, Robert Hegy.

Merlin Jucksch, Spiro Kosach, Charles Sedam, Julius Speyer, John Hume, Robert Horonjeff, Noel Izett, Robert Wasserlein, Dan Neblett, Howard Hearn, Mark Scalinetti and Nick Bauhofer.

Mrs. W. H. Banks is room representative chairman for the local unit.

Refreshments will be served by the mothers of the sixth grade classes under the direction of Mrs. John LaVallee and Mrs. Earl Gudmundson, tea chairmen.

Sailor Flies 'Birds'

Naval Aviation Cadet Paul H. Wagener, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Wagener of 3700 Mosswood Drive, Lafayette, is currently undergoing helicopter flight training at Ellyson Field, Pensacola, Fla.

Upon completion of training he will be designated a Naval Aviator and commissioned a second lieutenant in the U.S. Marine Corps.

Nursery School Orientation Now On for Parents

Orientation is now under way for parents of Lafayette Cooperative Nursery School children.

A session next Tuesday evening will be devoted to the topic of caring for youngsters in nursery school.

A first meeting was held last night at the school's quarters at Lafayette Community Church, to acquaint fathers and mothers with the philosophy and policies of the cooperative nursery school.

ONE OF THE ASPECTS of the school's make-up that is being interpreted to the parents during orientation is the division of children according to approximate age, making possible the more specialized programming in evidence in the two morning session, for younger children, and in the afternoon gathering of the older pre-schoolers, Mrs. Esther Noland, the school director, points out.

"For example, the afternoon group, which meets from 1 o'clock until 3:30, Monday through Thursday, is aimed at meeting the needs and capacities of the child who has missed kindergarten entry by only a few weeks or months," Miss Noland says.

"THIS UNUSUAL session is limited to children 4¼ years old or older. Its diversified program includes projects growing from the participating child's current interests, often culminating in brief jaunts, carpentry ventures and handcraft undertakings not feasible in groups of younger children.

"The day's schedule, however, does not omit the rest period and snack time that are featured in all three sessions."

Anyone interested in further information about the school is invited to phone its membership chairman, Mrs. Rudie Tourtellotte, at AT 4-4174.

Mo. Campus Far? Not for Joan

Traveling all the way to Columbia, Mo., to enroll as a new student at Stephens College, Miss Joan Marie Whalen will not only be made to feel at home on the campus but will find a touch of home in the greeting committee.

Joan, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph M. Whalen of 3251 Glenside Drive, Lafayette, will be helped in her orientation to campus life by a group of Senior Sisters, among whom will be Miss Patricia Myers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert W. Myers, 714 Los Palos Drive, Lafayette.

To qualitfy for a Senior Sister post, Patricia was commended for her high grade average and proven leadership abilities.

The Stephens semester opens Wednesday.

Troop 224 Will Start New Year At Meet Monday

With the first official meeting of the school year set for Monday evening at 7:15 in the Lafayette Town Hall, organization plans for Lafayette Boy Scout Troop 224 are well underway.

At this first meeting the 35 members of the troop and a large class of candidates will welcome back their former scoutmaster, Don Hoskins.

Hoskins has been serving in the U.S. Army for the past two years and will now resume the position of scoutmaster for Troop 224. Les Lloyd has been substituting for Hoskins.

Assisting Hoskins in the work of Troop 224 wil be Dale Black, Paul Dreyer, Dave Lercari and Les Lloyd as assistant scoutmasters. This will set up Troop 224 with a "5-deep trained leadership" program since each of the assistant scoutmasters has been trained as a scoutmaster.

Ted Clark, chairman of the troop committee for Troop 224, recently announced other new officers of the troop committee. Thees include Glenn Gollihur, vice-chairman; Ray Strobe, secretary, and Claude Peregoy, treasurer.

All parents and scouts of the troop will hold a social get-together at the Springhill Road Improvement Association swimming pool Monday evening, eptember 17.

New Resident Named Kaiser Director

Michael Montalbano, a new Lafayette resident, has been appointed director of computer research of Kaiser Steel Corporation, it was announced Wednesday by J. R. Walker, controller. He will be located at the company's home office, Oakland.

In his new position, Montalbano will direct the application of data processing equipment and mathematical techniques to Kaiser Steel's operations both at the home office and the steel mill at Fontana, California.

Montalbano has been with Kaiser Steel since 1954 as a mathematician at the Fontana mill. Formerly, he was a mathematician with the U.S. Government for six years in Washington, D.C., first with the National Bureau of Standards and later the Naval Research Laboratory.

Army Major Gets Alaska Assignment

Army Maj. Ulysses G. Stewart Jr., whose wife, Katherine, lives at 3626 Bickerstaff St., Lafayette, recently arrived in Alaska for duty with the U. S. Army, Alaska headquarters at Fort Richardson.

Major Stewart, who was last assigned to the Badger Ordnance Works in Baraboo, Wis., has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal and the Korean Service Ribbon with six campaign stars since entering the Army in 1941.

Prep Teams Prepare for Grid Openers

Dons Get Ready for Alhambra

The Acalanes Dons, under Coaches Jean Ridley and Bob Stevens, have been coming along slow but sure in their practice sessions, and, at this stage of the game, appear to be well on their way to being ready for their opener with Alhambra High at Martinez next Friday night.

Varsity mentor Ridley has been stressing offensive play to date, figuring to stress defense in the final week of practice, and has been experimenting a great deal to find the best combination up front, since the backfield, as far as the number 1 club goes, appears to be pretty well settled.

TWO PLAYERS were called up from the junior varsity eleven — sophomore Bob Mastrelli, who will be groomed for a guard spot, and Phil Condit, a junior called up for a try at the center position.

In practice drills Condit has impressed particularly in getting the ball back on punt formation.

Art Batchelder (junior) still looks to be the choice at center, while Jim Dinkel (senior) at guard has proved to be a top performer, both on offense and defense.

IN THE OTHER guard spot it's a battle among Bill Broderick (senior), Mastrelli and Larry Felix (senior). Felix, a transfer from St. Mary's High, has shown to advantage with his defensive play.

Steve Jordan (junior) has been a standout at end and has shown good speed once he gets his hands on the ball on pass plays.

The number 2 end man spot appears to rest between Bob Parker (senior) and Val Geissler, with only time telling who will win the starting spot.

IN THE BACKFIELD it's a bit of power and a bit of speed plus a pair of quarterbacks.

The Q.B. spot looks to be well taken care of by last year's regular, Rich Markstein (senior), and Lou Marello junior), up from last season's championship J.V. club.

In Stuart Busby the Dons have one of the county's top fullbacks. Busby has speed and power running, and, along with Markstein, will share the punting duties. In addition, look for him to be on the kicking end of conversion tries.

Harold Ecklund (senior) has been a regular since his sophomore year and could well be a standout with his offensive and defensive work at halfback.

THE DONS are using a split line and a flanker back, with emphasis on passing and wide open play, this season.

In flanker back Dave Bojarsky the Dons have a threat who will give the defense trouble. Fast of foot and sure of hand, he poses a constant threat as a pass receiver. He was a leading scorer on last year's J.V. and could well repeat as a varsity performer.

George MceMans, an up-and-coming sophomore, has been a bright light with his defensive play, despite the fact that he has but a year of frosh play behind him, and as of no whe rates as a number 1 defensive linebacker.

Dennis Hill, a senior, has been hampered with a charley horse that has been more bothersome than serious, and once it comes around he figures to make a strong bid for an end spot — particularly on defense.

NEXT WEEK'S workouts will stress defensive play, as well as work to sharpen the offense.

Considerable time will be given to the kicking game, both offensively and defensively.

Coach Ridley has stressed that shifting lineups will be in order right up to game time next Friday night.

CROSSBODY BLOCKING gets the once over during a practice session this past week at Pleasant Hill High School. The Ram is expecetd to show considerable power this year and is a dark horse contender for high honors.

HITTING LOW AND HARD is a lesson which is only mastered after weeks of practice and then some hard fought games. Pleasant Hill gridders are in the midst of training and scrum sessions.

HERE'S HOW YOU PACK through the center of the line, Coach Briggs points out to a husky fullback while other team members look on. Note the single band nose and chin guard which most players are wearing in comparison with the old fashioned "bird cages" of several years ago.

Scrimmage Shows Knight Varsity In Strong Shape

The Las Lomas Knights varsity candidates, some 50 strong, were put through their paces in an hour and a half scrimmage last Saturday afternoon.

The workout was highlighted by the strong showing of the first eleven, who rambed for plenty of yards in the course of the drill.

Headman Coach George DeKlotz kept Webb Johnson on the sidelines as he was favoring an ankle sprained earlier in the week.

JOHNSON, an All-County center selection last season, has been shifted to fullback, and up to the time of the ankle injury was drawing favorable comments from onlookers for his hard running.

Ken Stevens, a senior letterman from last year's team, filled in for Johnson and gave signs of coming into his own, as he ran up consistent yardage.

Pete Ostrom looked to advantage at the left half spot and could well supply the speed that DeKlotz has been hunting for.

THE KNIGHTS' guard and tackle positions figured to be well taken care of at the beginning of the season with all of last year's starters returning, and last Saturday's scrimmage only strengthened that belief, as all four came through with flying colors.

Guards Herb Foster and "Skip" Andreggan, along with Tackles Tom LePerle and Wally Busch, played sturdy, steady and rugged ball throughout the workout.

One of the problems has been filling in the end spots, where graduation took all of the lettermen. A junior, Britt Williams, who tips the scales at 160, looks to be a top candidate to fill in at one flank spot, while Dan Van Voorhes, shifted from a guard, showed to advantage, particularly as a defensive end.

THE SCRIMMAGE was a modified one, with no punting or kickoffs involved.

The offensive club was given the ball on the 40, and four tries were allowed to make the necessary 10 yards or more.

Offensive play was stressed, and for an opening workout it was termed most satisfactory by the coaches.

CURRENTLY 50 are being carried on the varsity team, with a cut soon to pare the squad down to approximately 30, which means that 20 will go to the junior varsity.

An additional 30 candidates were expected to report to the J.V. squad with the opening of school Wednesday, while an additional 50 frosh were expected to report for opening drills.

The Las Lomas varsity opens its season either next Friday or on Saturday, September 15. Originally scheduled with Danville at Las Lomas, the game has been shifted to Acalanes Memorial Field for an 8 p.m. game, as the Las Lomas lights won't be ready until later this season, if at all.

ENTERING FREEWAYS

Entering a freeway from a side road can be a dangerous maneuver, especially if the driver's view of oncoming traffic is partially obstructed. You should wait for the proper opening in traffic and look carefully before pulling out.

SPORTS

SYNCHRONIZED SWIMMING will be demonstrated by these local girls Sunday afternoon, during the annual aquacade held free to the public at the Soltau Swim School, 2540 San Miguel Drive, Walnut Creek. They are, left to right, Sandy Ferro of Lafayette, Betty Casady of Walnut Creek, Marilyn Jamison of Lafayette, Judy Baumann of Orinda, Mary Casady of Walnut Creek and Judy Laity of Lafayette. The show will begin at 3 p.m.

Aquacade Show Has 14 Events; Free to Public

The annual "Aquacade" by the Soltau Swim School of Walnut Creek will present a varied program of 14 events, free to the public Sunday afternoon at 2540 San Miguel Drive, Walnut Creek.

It is as follows: Intermediate and advanced swimming; springboard diving, also events for three and four-year-old, speed swimming.

Carol Hammer, age 22 months will perform. The synchronized swim team under Coach Sue Cision movement in water. Members are Sandy Ferro, Judy Baumann, Marilyn Jamison, Judy Laity, Mary Casady, Betty Casady, Marge Johnson, Madeline DeKlotz and Helen Pringle.

The swimming Barnesons of Lafayette, including Jimmie, Lois, Leslie and Linda will show their abilities. Susan Wainwright will perform and then, Joe Gardner and Roy Soltau will provide stunt diving.

There will be several other events, including life saving, and "Nicky," the sea lion, a television animal trained in Oakland.

BIG DROP IN POPULATION

Idaho City, once a city of 40,000 and capital of the Idaho Territory, now has less than 250 inhabitants.

Runners Are Lining up for Festival Race

Jack G. Kirk, of Mariposa leads the parade of entries in the twelth Walnut Festival race set for September 23.

Kirk ran the mile for Martinez's Alhambra high in the '20s does his training on the Yosemite Valley trails and only comes to town for the races. He is 50.

This will be Jack's 11th race in Walnut Creek, having missed the 1946 run while in army service overseas in the CBI.

This is acombined high school 1.9 course. Seniors run three laps

Different colored numbers worn by the runners is the only destinguishing mark. A two way mobile radio broadcasting unit will give finish line bystanders detailed progresss of the whole race.

Two pairs of brothers have already filed entry. Darryl Beardall, 19, of Santa Rosa will run the senior race and brother Alan, 17, the high school run. Bob Imperial, 18, of San Francisco, will run the high school race, and brother Hank, 19, the senior race.

Records for both races set last year are held by Herb Cloe, El Cerrito high school in 9 minutes

Rugged Sessions Get Rams Ready For New Season

The Pleasant Hill Rams, under Coach Hal Briggs' guiding hand, have been up at the crack of dawn up until school started in order to get in a workout so as not to interfere with players who still had jobs.

Workout number 2 came later in the day, and it was work until dusk to get the conditioning and fundamental drills in.

It slowed down to one-a-day drills with the advent of school days last Tuesday and will continue that way until the opening game next Friday.

Seventy-two players compose the football squads to date, with 36 apiece on J.V. and varsity.

The lettermen returning find a trio of players in Mike Cereda, Bob Marsh and Jon Lockwood.

Quarterback Al Locatelli, a regular last season, returns, as does Center Chuck Exner.

Other lettermen on the roster are John Turner, a guard; Fred Rupprecht, a tackle, and endman Dick Garren.

Coach Briggs will field a relatively light squad with a 165-pound all-around average.

Emphasis has been on speed, and reports have it that the squad has a great deal more of the get-up-and-go than did previous clubs.

A heavy scrimmage is slated for both varsity and J.V. late this week and early next, in order to get ready for the fast-approaching competitive season.

Plans call for lots of shifting of personnel, as well as a few new offensive maneuvers designed to give the defensive units a headache.

Entry blanks are available from Andy MacCono, 1840 Geary Road Walnut Creek.

Matadors Fast, Hard In Practice

The Miramonte grid aspirants, some 50 strong, have been hard at it in practice sessions despite the fact that they will start play two weeks later than other elevens in the Junior varsity circuit, in which they will be competing.

The team will be composed entirely of sophomores, inasmuch as they have only the first two years of high school at the present time, which means that they will have but one year of frosh experience behind them.

Blessed with good speed and fair size, the Miramonte club will in all probability give a good account of itself.

The lads will receive their baptismal fire in league competition when they play host to Las Lomas in a 3:30 p.m. game on September 28.

They will play seven straight league games and will not play any practice tilts, figuring it would be better to devote time to practice drills under new headman on Phillips, who has been in charge of practice sessions since August 30, ably assisted by Bob Callan.

In last Tuesday's drill and scrimmage they looked the best they have to date.

Standouts included center Bruce Hilger, who played a regular guard last season and did a bit of centring in a reserve capacity; Mike Albo at guard, who stood out with his all-round play, and Mike Wilmer, a transfer from Ohio who weighed in at 165, looked good in the drills and looms as a top prospect for a guard spot on the number 1 club.

Ron Stubberfield, a halfback, is the only other transfer on hand to date.

In the backfield Gary Lucas has shown to advantage and could well be the Matadors' top running back.

Lloyd Blaney and Bill Huston at quarterback are spending a lot of time in learning the ball-handling technique of Coach Phillips, who plans to use a modified "T."

Basic plays are being drilled, with the offense to be expanded with split ends and flanker backs once the fundamentals are mastered.

Centering to Punters -- A Lost Art on Gridiron

By ERWIN MATTSON

ONE OF THE MANY PROBLEMS facing the grid coaches in both college and prep circle is to get their centers to get the ball back to the kickers on punt formation.

Centering has become a lost art with the advent of the "T" formation, which merely requires the center to hand the ball to the quarterback.

Many centers, who do a good job otherwise, do a poor job in getting the ball back to the punters.

The colleges have pretty much the same problem. When Lloyd Torchio first went to the University of California he was one of the few who could get the ball back.

He did have his problems, though, when he started centering. Every coach at Acalanes took a try at getting him to snap the ball back. One day Lou McKim, who had been a center at Acalanes, happened along, and in a few minutes had him getting the ball back accurately and fast. He showed him a wrinkle in hand placement that had worked for him — and it did for Lloyd.

A good drill for a center is to pass the ball in a forward pass fashion, using two hands in an upright position. Actually, centering is merely forward passing from a down position. One hand propels the ball while the other guides its direction.

I SEE WHERE George Harrison, the Orinda "flying fish," continues to cop medals and cups as he breaks record after record in swim meets.

George has had a brilliant career, and it will be climaxed this fall when he goes to Australia as a member of Uncle Sam's relay swimming team.

RICHARD JONES, better known as "Red," returns to Contra Costa Junior College's East campus this week after spending the summer in Susanville, where he played baseball and worked in the mills.

He compiled an impressive five-win one-loss mark on the mound and then came through with some fine play at third base as well as in the outfield when he wasn't doing the throwing. At the plate he hit close to .350.

Since returning to the local area two weeks ago Red has played with Southern Pacific's semi-pro club and hurled them to a win in the game that won them the championship of the semi-pros.

In looking over the various clubs in the local preps my guess is that this will be one of the better ones, as far as the caliber of ball goes. Most squads have a good nucleus of veterans and good size. Could be one of the best seasons yet.

ORINDA SUN

Vol. XIV, No. 27 — Lafayette — Orinda, California — Friday, September 7, 1956 — Ten Cents

CAROL NORTHCUTT, wearing styles to be found at Joseph Magnin's, Broadway in Walnut Creek, models a Harou dress in a wonderful cranberry red. The outfit is trimmed in silk chiffon, embellished by floating chiffon panels in the My Fair Lady look. Note the smart bib jewelry of crystal.

That New Fall Look

DENISE COMERFORD is ready for fall in this grey, striped, wool-tweed skirt by Miss Pat. She's prepared for autumn breezes with her Talbott convertible sweater, which is a blend of fur and lamb's wool. Red clover is the rich color. The outfit and the black leather hand bag come from Ogden's Tween Togs in Orinda.

Fiesta Fashions Announces Its Student Council

Girls from the four high schools of this area have been chosen to the Student Council of Fiesta Fashions, 971 Moraga Road, Lafayette, to work with the junior departments of the store, Mrs. W. B. Worswick, store owner, announces.

The council comprises:

Judy Henderson and Joan Evans of Acalanes High School, Lynn Ballard of Miramonte High School, Kay Ross and Jackie Stow of Las Lomas High School and Pat Beckwith and Sandy Tatum of Pleasant Hill High School.

"The council," Mrs. Worswick explains, "will work with our junior departments during the school year in two ways:

"1. To help Fiesta Fashions in buying for the junior group and by studying lines of merchandise.

"2. To acquaint the student body of the four high schools with the fashions offered by Fiesta Fashions throughout the year."

The council will hold monthly meetings, according to Mrs. Worswick, who adds:

"The girls will not only have the opportunity to learn about fashions, but will also be able to study the broader aspects of merchandising."

FRANCES CASHIN seems well equipped and ready for school as she sits in her Ruth original plaid dress with pelon petticoat. Her sweater is charcoal grey trimmed in plaid. Schoolmate Kit Crossoehme appears equally pleased with her dark plair shag-bark long torso Suzy Brooks dress with pique collar. Both outfits are from the Kiadezee Children's Shop on Broadway, Walnut Creek.

Color-Match Fashions Are Big Leaders for This Fall

All the ingredients for a fashionable fall are supplied by new styles in separates, casual dresses jackets and car coats.

The '56 season finds the dyed-to-match trend going stronger than ever, with today's separates looking very much like two-piece dresses.

Mix-and-match-ability have long been advantages for separates, and with the current liking for matchmates in sweaters, blouses, shirts, jumpers, and skirts, the first concern, naturally, is "What about mix-mates? How can I use separates to stretch my wardrobe?"

THERE IS a happy answer.

Separates, it's true are so closely matched in color, trim and fabric that at first glance it seems difficult to find a way to change them about for more variety.

The solution is supplied by designers who have planned the "mixing" in advance, presenting three and four part combinations of sweaters, jackets, skirts and blouses that are color-harmonized yet easily interchanged.

MATCH-MATING is developed thrugh the use of identical fabrics, and/or identical colors, or by the use of trims—skirt-fabric trims on sweaters and blouses, sweater or blouse trims on skirts.

Fall Lingerie Reflects Dettail Of Many Lands

There's a world of fashion in fall lingerie and sleepware.

Slips, robes and gowns reflect Parisian — and American—style trends, with emphasis on a slender, high-waisted silhouette, while pajamas and other warm sleepwear emerge from a melting pot of Oriental, Scandinavian, Mexican, Tyrolean, Italian and early American design ideas.

Empire slips to wear under empire fashions feature a slender, unbroken line dressed up with lac or embroidery trims at bodice and hem.

More slim petticoats appear, again with pretty detailing.

Fists for Fall

BUSY SUBURBANITES can meet their hectic fall schedule in style and comfort in this R and K Original wool tweed coat dress. It is available in grey or brown at Capweil's of Walnut Creek.

COOL WEATHER won't bother Thais Ackerman in this beautiful Borgana coat. Borgana is called the finest of man-made furs. This high-styled coat with deep cuffs and modified Peter Pan stand-up collar is featured at The Clothes Horse, Walnut Creek.

BLACK WOOL JERSEY SHEATH, as modelled here by Mrs. Andrew D. Robertson, is one of the popular modes that Fiesta Fashions, Lafayette, is presenting for fall. The fully-lined dress has the new Empire look. Mrs. Robertson's tweed coat, with shawl collar and push-up sleeves, is wearable and smart. Her bag is black suede.

EXPECTANT MOTHERS can face fall fashionably in such outfits as this grey wool flannel, two-piece maternity suit, modelled here by Mrs. William S. Anderson of Walnut Creek. These modes can be found at The Expectation Shop, Broadway in Walnut Creek.

Slender Fashions Mark Newest Trends for Fall

"Ease without bulk" defines the newest trend in fashion, as a pleasing variety of silhouettes and styles make a graceful fall entrance.

The basic line of new-season dresses, costumes, suits and coat may be slim or full, but either way, the effect created is slender and dramatic.

One reason for this is that fall '56 fashion features back interest in exciting ways—in floating panels, deep pleats from a normal or empire waistline, big and dashing bows, curving belts to gather in fullness, and blousing above the waist.

These back details give ease and grace to dresses that may appear, from the front, as slender, almost narrow, empire sheaths. Conversely back or side-to-back pleats and belts take away bulk and hold the slim line as they control the fullness newly evident in coats.

ANOTHER FOCAL point is at the top of the silhouette, where draped necklines, bows or other treatments add softness to simple, elegant fashions.

Since this season's fashions so often combine simplicity with intricate back or top details, fabrics assume special importance.

They are interesting in texture and appearance, enhancing the most deceptively simple designs, yet they also have fluidity, for graceful draping, tying or pleating.

SILKS, ALONE or blended with wool or cotton; lightweight woolens, alone or blended with fur or silk; and distinctively textured jerseys are among the news-makers.

Texture contrasts are liked—for example, satin trimming on wool, and leather and fur trims for just about every type of fabric.

There's drama, too, in the fall color scheme. Sophisticated blacks, electric blues, respendent reds, muted greens and daring combinations of black with brown look particularly new.

The whole range of browns from beige to taupe, attracts fashion attention.

Along with the new approach to the slender look, several trends are significant for fall. Empire effects, for instance, have almost completely taken over the center of the stage.

TWEEDIE'S LATISHELL, in black suede and with black faille insert, is one style of many for the fall season at Grande's on Broadway, Walnut Creek.

Medium Shades Dominate Men's Suits for This Fall

A strong trend to medium shades in men's suits for fall and winter is dominating the current fashion picture in clothing stores and departments, according to the American Institute of Men's and Boys' Wear.

Suits are coming out of the "dressy dark" stage, and medium grays are particularly popular, followed by blue grays and mid-brown tones.

For the new season, these lighter tones are enhanced with neat, subdued patterns.

MUTED GLEN plaids, vertical striping, small checks, geometric designs, herringbones and slack twists highlight clothiers' new fall stocks.

A newsworthy counterpoint to the basic trend to mid-tones is the resurgence of dark blues, which until recently were pushed into the background by charcoal gray.

Fabrics are lighter in weight than in previous fall seasons, with medium weigh worsteds and flannels, lightweight tweeds and new colorful silk-wool blends sharing the spotlight.

As to style, the slim silhouette with trim, straight, natural lines continues in vogue with itse natural shoulders and narrow high notch lapels.

The two-button single-breasted model will continue to hold top place, although the three-button model is expected to move rapidly forward.

The double-breasted suit will become more important than in recent years.

Teen Trend Is Trim, Slim

"Trim and slim" sums up the look of the new-season teen togs, which usually feature the empire waistline and a junior-y look of sophistication.

High school girls find the empire line especailly becoming, for it provides fullness just where it is needed in the developing figure and disguises figure faults which might otherwise be revealed by the sheath silhouette of dresses and jumpers.

Another approach to the slim look for teens is hidden fullness in skirts with alternating flat panels and pleats.

Coats also display a slender appearance. Deep inverted back pleats conceal fullness, or a loose and easy flow of fabric is nipped in by back or side belts. Gathered fullness hangs straight from an empire line.

Big cuffs and cuffless push-up sleeves vie for teen favor while collars range from mandarin to Buster Brown styles.

Fitted fleece coats, double-breasted dark tweeds and, of course, that hardy perennial, the boy coat, are high up on the list of teen likes.

Leather Appears In Wide Variety

Fashion likes leather this fall and ses it for everything from boleros of empire-styled costumes to cocktail dresses in kid.

Then there are car coats full length coats, walking shorts and pants of every style and length, evening capes and jumper dresses, all of leather.

As the result of new techniques, leather is now handled like a fabric.

Karnival Fete By Alder Will Delight Kids

When Alder Branch of the Children's Hospital of the East Bay presents its "Kiddie Karnival" on Saturday, September 15, there will be a fire engine duo, a merry-go-round,, too, plus balloons, cartoons and a park full of attractions geared to the interests of nursery school tots and grammar school youngsters.

Mrs. Paul Mouser, general chairman of "Kiddie Karnival," has planned to accommodate over 500 children and their parents at the Piedmont Community Center, which will be the "Karnival" locale.

Among those from Contra Costa County who plan to attend with their youngsters are:

Catherine Laub On Committee

Catherine Laub, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. S. H. Laub of Las Lomas Way, Walnut Creek, was on a committee which prepared a luncheon for the class of 1960, College of Holy Names, Oakland, last week. The luncheon was one of a series of events beginning the fall term.

THAT TRIP DOWN the aisle was made August 26 at St. Mary's Catholic Church, Walnut Creek, by the former Barbara Jean Dawson of Lafayette, and Robert Walter Warren of Walnut Creek. They met while students at Acalanes High School. He is doing post graduate work at San Francisco State College.

Towhees Pick Leader; Plan Lunch, Thursday

A suprise gift of a silver coffee server was presented to Mrs. Philip Knox, Jr., at the Towhee meeting held recently at the home of Mrs. Frank Cashin, Walnut Creek.

Mrs. Knox, president of the unit is moving to Sherman Oaks. She was surprized to see all members in attendance instead of only board members.

At the meeting Mrs. Robert Wisecarver, general chairman of the bridge luncheon, called on her chairmen to complete plans for the party which will be held on Thursday.

Mesdames Edward Wanous, Norman Watson and Samuel Bradbard said it will be held at Mrs. Cashin's home.

Three new members were introduced by Mrs. Knox — Mesdames Mervin O'Donnell and Robert Leland of Walnut Creek, and Malcolm Nielson of Lafayette.

Mrs. William Phelan, Jr. general chairman of the fifth annual Towhee Christmas Tea, to be held on November 27 at the Diablo Country Club, announced her chairmen as follows:

Exhibits, Mrs. John Raley and Mrs. William McLaren; prizes, Mrs. Rix Maurer; refreshments, Mrs. Donald McIntosh; tickets, Mrs. Samuel Bradbard; puddings, Mrs. Clifton Dahlgren and Mrs. Norman Watson; and bazaar Mrs. Robert Cuenin and Mr. Donald Priewe.

Mrs. Edward Counter, associate member of the Towhee unit will be in charge of the tea table decorations with the assistance of Mrs. Owen Williams.

At the close of the meeting Mrs. Beverly Wilder was unanimously elected by the Board to take over the president's duties until December. The Towhees are a unit working for the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

Linnet Swim Party Held at Campbell Home

A meeting of Linnet Auxiliary to Mt. Diablo Therapy Center was held August 27 at the home of Mrs. Arch Cambell in Alamo.

It was a combination business meeting and swimming party in Mrs. Campbell's pool. A buffet luncheon was served in the garden at the noon hour.

Mrs. W. P. Pruess was co-hostess with Mrs. Campbell.

Plans were made for the weekend sales at the shop maintained by the unit at 1547 East Street, Walnut Creek, with back-to-school supplies one of the featured "specials."

Of particular interest to the women are a stock of smart fall hats in felts and velours, and a new supply of shoes.

The new "French Roon" with its better clothing continues to show popularity with the customers.

Mrs. Donald Allen will be in charge of sales on Thursday, with Mrs. John Lar Rieu, Mrs. Nicholas Taliaferro and Mrs. L. Ralston Bullitt assisting, while Mrs. E. B. Radford will be chairman on Friday, with Mrs. Alden Macomber as volunteer worker.

Dinner to Launch Sorority Group

A pot-luck supper Tuesday at 6:30 p.m. will be the highlight of the first meeting of the newly formed Diablo Chapter of the Kappa Delta East Bay Alumni Association.

The meeting will take place at the home of Mrs. George Crawe, 560 Blair Avenue, Piedmont. Members of all four groups of the association will be present at this meeting.

The group invites any Kappa Delta Alumni in Central Contra Costa interested in joining the Diablo group to contact Mrs. George Empey, 2971 Hillsdale Drive, Walnut Creek, YE 5-1750.

Reservations to the meeting can be made by calling Mrs. Jack Andrews, MU 2-3489.

DYE TO MATCH

Subtle approach to "dyed-to-match" fashion is the silk shirt in soft tones that pick up a color from a tweed or striped skirt.

Fabrics Important In Fall Neckties

Fabrics are weaving an important role in the neckwear presentation for fall.

Many all silk and silk blend ties are bowing into the picture and there is an added inteerst in Dacron fabrics that have the look and feel of wool challis.

Also being introduced are tweeds for casual wear, velours and rep weaves.

Women's Club Board Will Meet Tuesday

With summer nearing an end, the Walnut Creek Women's Club board will meet Tuesday at 11 a.m. in the clubhouse.

A business meeting will be held at 1 p.m., under the direction of Mrs. Orin Boslar, president.

LATER A TEA will be served by Mrs. A. A. Nickel and Mrs. Marie Maser.

Mrs. E. C. Holman, vice president for monthly programs, is arranging performances by several artists.

Committees headed by Mrs. R. P. Samuels and Mrs. James F. Bailey, have the clubhouse in readiness for the members and rents. A new stove has been added to the kitchen equipment and the building is soon to be painted.

THE WAYS AND Means Committee, Mrs. Frank Scothorn, chairman, has also been meeting regularly each Wednesday. A garden dessert party and bazaar has been planned for September 28.

The six section cahirmen, Mesdames Mabel Balensiefer, speech arts; A. A. Goff, current events; Ivan Lindberg, garden; D. B. Welch, bible; Arthur Larson, book and Earl F. Luce, evening social, have programs and events outlined for their groups.

Betts Hayes Becomes Mrs.

Just moved into their new home in La Jolla, Calif., are the newlywed Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Foster Dalton, who were married recently at St. Clements Church, Berkeley.

Following a honeymoon at Lake Tahoe, the former Louise Betts Hayes, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Morrison Brobeck, 120 Sleepy Hollow Lane, Orinda, and the benedict moved to the Southern California city from where Dennis will attend San Diego State College.

Betts, as the bride prefers to be called, is a 1954 graduate of Acalanes High School and attended East Contra Costa Junior College.

The groom, son of Mrs. Harris Dalton and John Edward Dalton of Berekely, has served three years in the U.S. Marine Corps.

In the church rites, officiated by the Rev. J. Henry Thomas, Betts was escorted down the aisle by her father, who gave her in marriage.

During the ceremony, she was gowned in fitted princess lines of silk taffeta, which flowed down into a buffant full length skirt with a chapel train of taffeta and panels of imported chantilly lace.

The scoop neckline, bodice and long tappered sleeves were also of chantilly lace. Her headpiece consisted of a dainty lace cap dotted with seed pearls and a fingertip English illusion veil.

With Miss Christine Swanson of New Jersey serving as Maid of Honor, four local girls attended Betts as bridesmaids. They were Miss Rita Wood and Miss Joan McAdams of Walnut Creek, and Miss Katherine Brobeck and Miss Suanna Small of Orinda.

The attendants of the bride wore ruby crystalette waltz length dresses in princess style, with slightly scooped neckline and short sleeves.

Two panels of embroidered crystalette extended from the necklines to the hems of the bouffant skirt. In the arms of the attendants were crescents of rubrum lillies.

Mrs. Brobeck wore a silver blue peau-de-soie sheath gown, with silver trim on the lace scoop neckline. She had matching accessories and wore a corsage of cyprempedium orchids. The groom's mother was gowned in a light eggplant silk sheath dress and matching accessories. She also wore an orchid corsage.

Standing beside Dennis as best man was his brother, John. Ushering guests were Terry St. John, Henry Brandon and Michael Dalton, all of Berkeley, and Timothy Layden of San Francisco.

Pandora Welcomes Guests To 'Paris Cafe' Tomorrow

Tomorrow evening members of Pandora Chapter of Children's Home Society will welcome their guests to "Cafe Parisienne" at the Gerhart Cooke residence on Dan Gabriel Way in Orinda.

Extensive preparations have been made to bring the atmosphere of Paris to Orinda for the evening.

Cocktails and hors d'oeuvres will be served under a red and white striped canopy over the patio, and small tables with red and white checked cloths will encircle the lawn to allow guests to sit and enjoy the gaiety of a sidewalk cafe.

A large buffet table, presided over by a French chef, will take charge of the hot hors d'oeuvres to be served from copper chafing dishes, and some of the Pandora members will be in French costume to serve canapes.

Music during the cocktail party will be provided by a wandering minstrel who has many pieces with a French theme in his repertoire.

A French artist, complete with smock and beret, will be at the party to sketch any guest who is interested in having an original by Alseth.

Mrs. Glen Smith is general chairman of the party and has as her committee chairmen: Mesdames John Barchfield, Charles Biesel, John Banister, Ronald Kersh, John Sullivan and Edward Walsh.

Among the guests who are planning to attend the large affair are Messrs. and Mesdames Arthur Anderson, Robert Bettencourt, Daniel Carter, Melvin Colwell, Jack Cunningham, Dr. and Mrs. Clifford Chappell, Messrs. and Mesdames Elmer Fries, Charles Erickson, James Hendrickson, Donald La Rue, Robert Lyman, Standish Massie, Richard Myers, Alex McLain, Robert Powell, Karl Scheville, Ritchie Smith, Jack Van Gelder, Robert Wallace and Dr. and Mrs. Donald Walker, and Paul Winquist.

MINIATURE GOAL-POSTS will grace the tables during the Flicker Unit dance, to be held September 15 at the Marsh Creek Lodge. Consultation is among Mrs. Richard Lieber and Lee Soares both seated, and seated, Mesdames Raymond Williams, Alan Wilkie and Harry Magee Jr. The unit is a branch of the Mt. Diablo Therapy Center.

Locals Make Home In New York City

Dr. and Mrs. Nemat Borhani are now making their home in New York City, where he is on the staff of Bellevue Hospital.

They were recently married in the Valley Baptist Church in Walnut Creek, with Reverend Paul Gaston of San Leandro reading the services.

The bride, the former Miss Patricia Ann Hyde, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald W. Hyde of Palmer Road Walnut Creek. Until her marriage she was in nurses training at Kaiser Foundation Hospital in Oakland.

A native of Iran, her husband received his schooling there, in Switzerland and Beirut, Lebanon before coming to this country. He has served as resident cardiologist in several United States hospitals.

Miss Diane DeJong of Castro Valley served as maid of honor, and secondary attendents were Miss Barbara Burt of Los Angeles and Mrs. Fred Wynbrandt of Oakland.

Janice Thomas, Carl D. Rodolf Exchange Vows

At a small informal wedding ceremony that took place in the Little Church of the Wayfarer in Carmel, Miss Janice Thomas and Carl D. Rodolf exchanged wedding vows recently. The ceremony was attended only by relatives of the young couple.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leroy B. Thomas, 1591 Hillgarde Avenue, Walnut Creek, is a 1950 graduate of Acalanes High School. She received her B.A. degree in 1954 from the University of California in Berkeley, and was an active Chi Omega sorority member while on the campus.

The bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl F. Rodolf of Piedmont, graduated from Piedmont High School and the University of California, where he was a member of the Kappa Alpha fraternity. He served two years in the Army and was stationed in France.

A luncheon followed the wedding ceremony at Pinn Inn in Carmel. In addition to the immediate family, the bride's grandmother, Mrs. T. M. Green was present.

The newlyweds left for a honeymoon trip to Santa Barbara and Southern California. Upon their return they will live in Berkeley.

COLLARING FASHION

White collars and neckline fillins accessorize fall costumes. Satin is particularly newsy in Peter Pan shapes and in larger collars.

PHWC Tea Set For Sunday

The annual membership tea of the Pleasant Hill Women's Club will be Sunday at the home of Mrs. George Cail at 201 Mayhew Way, from 2 to 5 p.m. This is the kickoff for the fall and winter activities of the Women's Club.

Co-hostesses will be Mrs. Burl Brubaker, president, and Mrs. Leslie LaPerle. Mrs. William McLaughlin and Mrs. Verle Brubbel will be in charge of the food committee, and Mrs. Heidi Manos is in charge of decorations.

Tea hostesses will be Mrs. Harold Jachens and Mrs. Leon Sloan.

Mrs. Norman Daneiko will sing several numbers, and Mrs. A. A. Nichol will be at the piano, and she will also play solo numbers during the afternoon.

Those interested in joining the club may contact Mrs. Cail at YE 5-5171 or Mrs. Brubaker at YE 4-7873.

The first meeting of the new year will be Monday at 8 p.m. at the Diablo Vista Elementary School on Boyd Road, according to Mrs. Charles Mullong, publicity chairman.

Men's Shoes Are Really Cosmopolitan

The "continental look" in men's shoes, so much in evidence on this side of the Atlantic in the past few seasons, has been transmuted for fall into a thoroughly American version that combines the best of both ways of life.

Ben Randall Takes Bride In Stockton

The Central Methodist Church in Stockton provided the setting as Ben Randall Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Randall Sr., 21 Donald Court, Orinda, culminated his romance with the former Peggy Seaman with wedding vows August 17.

The ceremony, which fell on the same day as the wedding anniversary of the groom's parents, was followed by a reception at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wareham Clark Seaman, in Stockton.

With a full contingent of attendants serving the bride, many guests from this area witnessed the rites.

Included among the guests were:

Mr. and Mrs. John Stoffel, Jack Pedder, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Hagstrom, Mr. and Mrs. William Arneds, Miss Julie Smith, Mrs. William Snow, Miss Susan Snow, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ohleyer, Miss Juliette Ohleyer and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Turk.

Also attending the wedding were John Helmgren, Mrs. Teddy Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Janes Brookes, Mr. and Mrs. Challis Gore, Mr. and Mrs. George Tobias, Mr. and Mrs. William Hamilton, Mr. and Mrs. Luther Gulick and Miss Phyllis Root.

The groom, a senior at the College of the Pacific, had as his best man Jack Stoffel of Orinda. Ushering guests was George Titsworth of Berkeley.

Dressed alike in turquoise blue gowns with coral carnations in bouquets were Peggy's attendants.

They included the Maid of Honor Miss Jean Holmes, Modesto; Matron of Honor Mrs. Anita Huber of Los Angeles and bridesmaid Miss Jane Semple of Stockton.

NAVY SAILS IN

Now it's "the girl in the navy flannel separates." Navy, surprise color for fall, appears importantly in new sportswear.

Sue Johnson To Marry James Holshof

Plans are being formulated for the nuptial mass wedding to be held on November 3, at 11 a.m. for Miss Sue Louise Johnsen and Airman 1/C James Jerome Holshof, with Father Ralph Newport officiating at the double ring service.

The engagement of the young couple was announced early in August by the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Willa Johnsen of 713 Charlton Drive, Pleasant Hill, during Holshof's leave and visit in the area.

Matron of honor wil be Mrs. Robert Johnsen of Orinda. The future benedict's brother, Bernard Hulshof of Gordonville, Missouri, will serve as best man. Flower girl wil be Nikki Squires of Pleasant Hill, and ring bearer will be her brother, Scott Squires.

A graduate of the 1952 class at Acalanes High School, Miss Johnsen graduated in 1954 from the Contra Costa Junior College, and is employed at Parks Air Force Base Headquaters where she met her fiance.

Son of Mr. and Mrs. Willliam Holshof of Gordonville, Missouri, Holshof graduated in 1951 from Jacksonville High School, Jacksonville, Missouri before enlisting in the U.S. Air Force Base at Sealia, Missouri.

Following the wedding ceremony, a reception for the wedding party and guests will be held at the home of the bride's mother.

Expected out-of-town guests include the bride-elect's grandmother, Mrs. Louise Brooks of Pomona; Mrs. John Redmond of San Marino; Mrs. Glenn Curry and Mrs. Gustave Reid of Fortuna; and Mrs. Nan Gouveia of Aptos.

Dressy Casuals Are Appropriate Wear

Less casual, more versatile is the trend for casual dresses this season.

Fashion-wise styling and fool-the-eye fabrics and knits make for casuals with a dressy air, appropriate to many occasions.

New Officers Take Reins of Women's Club

New officers took thee reins of the Lafayette Suburban Junior Women's Club at the group's first meeting of the season recently.

Several anticipated group projects were the main topics of discussion at the meeting. The proposed endeavors include installation of a booth at the Walnut Festival, a Christmas Bazaar, a tea and initiation for new members, participation in the coming "Laf- Frantics" variety show, a Holloween dance and a philanthropic project for the year.

New officers included:

Mrs. Edward C. Allen, president; Mrs. George Yorg, vice-president; Mrs. Robert Stevens, recording secretary; Mrs. Bruce Stringer, correspondance secretary; Mrs. Don Andresen, treasurer; Mrs. Elwyn Williams, auditor; Mrs. Vernon Adams, parlimentarian, and Mrs. Robert Lundquist, coordinator.

Past Presidents Host Gala Affair

Past Presidents Assembly of Alameda District, junior membership, hosted prospective members at an assembly held last week at a swimming party and dinner at the home of Mrs. Floyd Burror, 781 Hilton Road, Walnut Creek.

The young clubwomen who have recently relinquished their president's gavels in Alameda and Contra Costa County junior clubs were honorees.

Miss Shirley Wise, assembly president was hostess, and the arrangement committee included Mesdames Arthur Trucky, Paul Paules, Roy C. Young, and William C. Hood.

The assembly is the only one of its kind for juniors in the California Federation of Women's Clubs. Officers in addition to Miss Wise, are Mrs. Alfred Burror, vice president; Mrs. Paules, corresponding and recording secretary; and Mrs. Richard Steger, treasurer.

Heide Chapter Announces Show

The eighth anual luncheon and fashion show by members of Heide Chapter of the Children's Home Society will be at the Castlewood Country Club October 18.

At a meeting in the home of Chairman, Mrs. Robert Lockey, plans were being formulated, with proceeds to be used for the benefit of the Children's Home Society of California.

Theme chosen for the annual event is "Venetian Ventures," and clothes shown will be featured from H. Liebes in San Francisco.

Special awards will be given and will include a mink stole, an electric chaffing dish, and jewelry. Mrs. Earl Plescia and Mrs. Andrew Young are co-chairman of the surprise gift concession, and have been tying and wrapping gifts during the summer.

Chairmen appointed for the many luncheon and fashion show duties are, Mrs. J. A. McCormick, Mrs. G. A. Squires, chairman and vice chairman of the fashion show; Mrs. Theodore J. Clark, publicity; Mrs. W. A. Siebert, models; Mrs. E. C. Murrayvice, model chairman; Mrs. R. G. Falk, Mrs. J. P. Herrmann, decorations.

Others are Mrs. Louis Tacchella, program; Mrs. J. M. Browning, procurement; Mrs. Albert Alexander, seating; Mrs. Jack Campbell, benefit drawing; Mrs. W. H. Minor, reservations, and Mrs. R. P. Cornelison, hostesses.

Tickets may be purchased from Mrs. Cornelison at YE 4-4721; Mrs. Minor at AT 3-6223; or Mrs. A. E. Steifvater, at CL 4-2986.

Knights Go Under Lights November 9

The Las Lomas Knights will go "under the lights" for the first time November 9, when they are hosts to the Acalanes Dons.

This will be the final game of the season for the Knights, who earlier had hoped that night lights purchased from the Oakland pro baseball team would be erected early in the season.

The schedule has been revised so that the first three night games "at home" will actually be played on the Acalanes field.

A campaign is currently being conducted to rase $20,000 to pay for the lights. The delay is due to problems of cement casings, power supply, wiring and mounting of poles.

The football schedule is as follows:

Sept. 14—San Ramon at Las Lomas (afternoon).
Sept. 21—Sir Francis Drake at San Anselmo.
Sept. 28—Bye.
Oct. 5—Antioch at Acalanes.
Oct. 12—Pleasant Hill at Concord.
Oct. 19—Mt. Diablo at Acalanes.
Oct. 26—Pacifica.
Nov. 2—Pittsburg at Pittsburg.
Nov. 9—Acalanes at Las Lomas.

Doreen Smith Weds Don Filbert

At a double ring ceremony Miss Doreen Smith of Concord and Donald Filbert of Pleasant Hill exchanged their wedding vows recently at the First Presbyterian Church in Concord with the pastor, Reverend Ernest I. Bradley officiating. The church was decorated with white chrysanthemums and gladioli, and candelabra.

The bride wore a pleated tulle with lace panels over net ballerina length dress and a heart shaped crown cap held her fingertip veil in place. Her bouquet was of white roses, and she was given in marriage by her father.

The bride's sister, Mrs. Audrey Richards of Garden Grove California, served as matron of honor. She wore a dotted pink nylon ballerina length dress, pink accessories and carried a bouquet of red roses.

Brice Jerlow of Visalia served as best man, and usher duties were performed by Jim and John McCormick of Walnut Creek.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Smith, wore a dusty rose lace over satin, white accessories and a red rose corsage.

The bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Filbert, wore a light blue tafetta street length dress, white accessories and pink roses.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Edith Smith, 2933 Concord Boulevard, is a 1955 graduate of Mt. Diablo High School, and is presently employed at Sears Roebuck in Walnut Creek.

The benedict, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Filbert, 102 Kerry Lane also attended Mt. Diablo High School. He served four years in the United States Navy as a radarman 2/c aboard the "Hornet." He served in the Korea, Japan and Hong Kong.

Upon his discharge he became associated with Sears Roebuck in Walnut Creek.

Following the wedding ceremony, guests attended a buffet supper and reception for the newlyweds at the home of the bride's parents. A three-tiered cake trimmed with bells and roses was cut by the newlyweds.

The young couple left for a Southern California honeymoon, and upon their return will live on Second Street in Concord.

Couple Honored At Surprise Fete

Miss Margaret Mowry and her fiance, Richard Turner were surprised by members of the junior high and high school group of the Pleasant Hill Community Baptist Church at a recent shower.

Miss Mowry and her fiance are adult leaders of the groups, and the surprise shower was held at the home of Gail Deprose on Creston Drive.

The bride-elect was presented by the group with many kitchen items including a pressure cooker, glassware and kitchen towels.

PIN VARIETY SHOW
